FIGHTS ARE FEATURING ELECTIONS

Mosley Supporters Battle With Mob—Dominion's Minister Howled Down

SNOWDEN DECRIES LABOR PLATFORM

By NECKLEY PARSON

(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The class conflict battle between capitalism and labor is sharpening at bewildering speed. Great Britain enters the last week of the "National" election campaign.

"If Labor wins," Lord Grey of Fallodon solemnly warns the nation, "the result of their policy will be the collapse of the credit of the country and of its currency, and such evils and such a catastrophe will follow that free trade, protection and many other things will cease to count in the national interest."

MAD BOLSHIEVISM

"Labor's platform is Bolshevism gone mad," declares Philip Snowden in a vitriolic radio speech against his former Cabinet colleagues.

James H. Thomas was howled down and was utterly unable to continue with his meeting in Liverpool yesterday. Angry cries of "Twister" and "Traitor" and "Are you going to starve in silence?" driving him from the platform after three vain attempts to match his voice against the uproar.

And Sir Oswald Mosley, late deserter from the Labor ranks and now leader of the energetic "New" party, advocating something like the Soviet five-year plan for Great Britain, was literally mobbed by a savage crowd of 15,000 persons in the Birmingham Rag Market.

THREW FURNITURE

Sir Oswald's speech, saying that the House of Commons should be a workshop not a talk shop, was suddenly ended by a shower of chairs hurled at the platform. Sir Oswald's party of young college athletes hurled the chairs back. Bottles were the next weapon, one of which knocked senseless Peter Howard, famous Rugby player. Sir Oswald's party made a sortie into the mob, exchanging blows. The mob hurled them back.

Representatives at Calgary Meeting Consider Ways and Means to Curtail Expenditures—Unemployment Relief Problems Discussed

CALGARY, Oct. 19 (CP).—Definite steps towards an investigation of gasoline prices under the Combines Act, as well as extensive study of Western economic problems and unemployment, were taken by four Western Premiers and their Cabinet aides at a conference here today.

PLAN TRIALS OF B.C. GRAPE WINE

Local Winery Is Preparing Test of Three-Year Product This Season

Produced by a local winery, wine made from British Columbia grapes will go on the market this Christmas. It was stated yesterday at the Department of Agriculture.

The fourth crop of grapes from the Okanagan arrived in Victoria yesterday, to the order of the Department of Agriculture. The grapes will be made into wine for aging. The movement has been going on for some time, and the first wine to be placed on the market will be three years old, it was intimated.

Grape production has been steadily rising in the Okanagan Valley and use of some of the product for wine production has been an increasing factor in the industry in recent years.

The wine is said to be of high quality, and if the initial tests of its sale on a commercial scale are successful, it may lead to a considerable development of grape production in the province.

At present most of the grape wines used in British Columbia are imported from Ontario, it is stated.

Auto Club Salesman Convicted

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—Found guilty of obtaining money by false pretences, Allan H. Green, salesman, was remanded for sentence by Mr. Justice Gregory when the trial concluded at the Assize Court today.

Green was convicted of selling membership in the North American Automobile Association under the guise of automobile insurance. A cheque for $57, paid to Green by Mrs. Amelia Holmes, Lulu Island, was a feature of the exhibits at the trial.

In his charge to the jury, Mr. Justice Gregory laid stress on the words "Auto insurance" which had been written on the cheque.

ATMOSPHERE IS CLEARED

Better Feelings Indicated All Round Regarding Dispute in Manchuria

TOKIO, Oct. 20 (AP).—Vernacular newspapers declared tonight all misunderstanding relative to American participation in the Manchurian negotiations at Geneva have been cleared and that the Japanese Government considers the matter closed.

These indications of better feelings in the dispute developed after military operations for defence of Japanese nationals and property in Manchuria, were in accord with an earlier feeling at Geneva and announcement in Washington that the United States would not take a leading role in the world-wide efforts to preserve peace in the Far East.

CLARITY ATMOSEPHERE

Earlier it was the seeming deadlock developed at Geneva by renewed Japanese objections to American participation in debate before the League of Nations Council was inclining officials here to look more to China than to the League for a solution of the Manchurian problem.

Publication tonight of details of conversations in Washington between the Japanese Ambassador Katsuki Debuschi and Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, clarifying the circumstances under which America is participating in the Geneva consultations, created a favorable impression.

DOWNFALL PREDICTED

With the talk of peace movements reports were circulated of approaching downfall of Chiang Kai-shek, President of China, who had been quoted as advocating war with Japan if negotiations failed to procure evacuation of Japanese troops from Southern Manchuria.

Chiang, generalissimo of Nationalist forces, which set up a government at Nanking in 1917 after overthrow of war lords who opposed the march from Canton, was said to have yielded to demands of Cantonese insurgents that he retire.

MANY HUNTERS KILLED

SEATTLE, Oct. 19 (AP).—With the hunting season practically at an end in Western Washington, but still to open in many counties on the east side, fatalities from hunting in the mountains in the state today totaled ten known dead and two given up as dead.

Vance Breese, flying the special ship loaned to the Lindberghs for their return to the East, received word from the British Columbia city late today when he arrived from Los Angeles. Breese immediately radioed Col. Lindbergh for instructions as to where the plane was to be delivered.

SEATTLE BUSY

Seattle, with characteristic spirit that has become famous, has broadcast that Victoria had no flying field. This is done in an effort to compel Col. Charles Lindbergh, who has expressed a desire to fly from Victoria on the arrival here of the American Mail Line S.S. President Jefferson, from the Orient, to visit the sound city.

It is true that Victoria's flying field is officially closed, but it is equally true that a plane can land there. Col. Lindbergh, who arrived here and taken off from the field flying the colonel, however, is distinguished by the fact that he is pointed out, he can be transported by air to Vancouver by a flying boat and hop off from Vancouver's new airport.

STEAMER LATE

Scheduled to arrive here this morning from Far Eastern ports, the American Mail Line S.S. President Jefferson has been delayed for some reason at present unknown, and will not reach Victoria until some time Wednesday evening or early Thursday morning. Word to the above effect has been received from the ship at the local office of the steamship company.

STATEMENT ISSUED

The statement issued by Premier J. E. Brownlee, of Alberta, after consultation with Premier S. F. Tominic, of British Columbia; Premier J. T. M. Anderson, of Saskatchewan, and Premier John Bracken, of Manitoba, read in full:

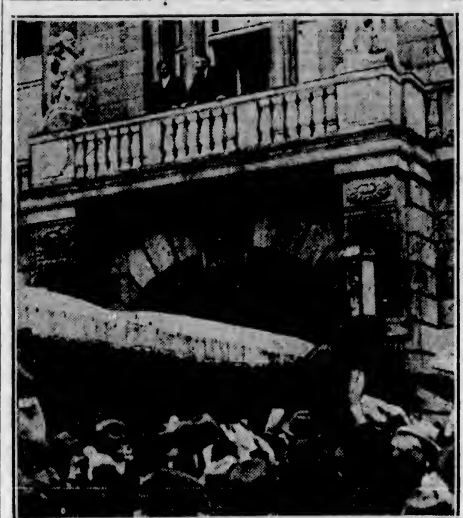

"The morning was taken up entirely in discussion of the various problems arising out of unemployment relief. The afternoon was spent in a discussion of the financial problems of the provinces.

"Each of the provinces face the necessity of curtailing expenditures in every possible way and suggestions were advanced by the representatives of each as to how this might be accomplished.

"The various suggestions are to be studied by the Governments and a further conference held near the end of November to see to it."

The visitors are shown on the balcony at Adlon Hotel, acknowledging the cheers of the crowd.

Export of Gold From Canada Is Now Prohibited

Government Takes Action to Sustain Canadian Credit and Assure Return of Exchange Values to Normalcy—Only Exception Will Be to Chartered Banks

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (CP).—Canada has taken official action to prohibit the export of gold except under licence. The order comes into effect today and will continue in operation until March 1, 1932, unless sooner amended or rescinded by competent authority. Official announcement of the steps taken was made by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, today.

Cattle Tries to Force Lindberghs to Take Off From That City

SEATTLE, Oct. 19.—Possibility that Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh will be forced to change their plans for the start of their flight East loomed here tonight when it was learned that the Victoria, B.C., flying field had been closed to commercial flying and all markers removed.

Vance Breese, flying the special ship loaned to the Lindberghs for their return to the East, received word from the British Columbia city late today when he arrived from Los Angeles. Breese immediately radioed Col. Lindbergh for instructions as to where the plane was to be delivered.

R. C. STEWART GIVEN SHORT PRISON TERM

Young Communist Leader Is to Serve Two Years in Penitentiary

DRUG PEDDLER GETS FIVE-YEAR SENTENCE

Sentences on persons convicted by juries at the Fall Assizes of the Supreme Court of British Columbia were pronounced yesterday morning by Mr. Justice Murphy at the conclusion of the Assize Court here.

Those sentenced were:

Ronald C. C. Stewart, convicted of attempting to incite mutiny in His Majesty's forces and of circulating seditious literature, two years in penitentiary.

Chan Yew, Chinese, convicted of distributing cocaine, five years in penitentiary and a fine of $500, or an additional six months if the fine is not paid.

SERIOUS OFFENCE

In sentencing Stewart, Mr. Justice Murphy said, "The Parliament of Canada takes a very serious view of this offence. The maximum sentence provided by statute is life imprisonment, but, Parliament having made a difference between ordinary sedition and tampering with the forces of the King and having set the minimum at two years, I sentence you to two years in the penitentiary." Stewart had nothing to say before sentence was passed.

His Lordship, in sentencing Chan Yew, mentioned the seriousness of the offence of which the accused had been found guilty. He mentioned also that he did not think the prisoner was one of the higher-ups in the process of distributing narcotic drugs. The maximum, under the recently amended act, is seven years when the offender is a member of the King's forces, but Mr. Justice Murphy was inclined to be lenient in view of the fact that the prisoner was not one of those dealing in the traffic in the trade.

Only a small number of spectators were in the courtroom when the sentences were passed. Stewart and Chan Yew were brought to the Courtroom at 11 o'clock by Provincial Police officers, who escorted the prisoners into the courtroom. Stewart was brought out from Oakalla on Sunday afternoon to Na-

Ten Are Slain in Mexican Rioting

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 19 (AP).—Ten persons, including Mayor Manuel Lopez, were killed in a night of rioting in Mexico City, which followed desecration of a church there, said a Puebla dispatch to Excelsior.

Several were wounded in the fighting, which occurred yesterday. According to the meagre details the populace was aroused over the death of a priest taken from a village church. Municipal authorities were accused of allowing the church to be sacked, and a battle followed in which the municipal police were set afire and other buildings damaged.

INQUEST ON REMAINS OF MR. McABEE

McAbee was held last week, the jury returned a verdict of death at the hands of a person or persons unknown, and exonerating fully hunting partners who had accompanied McAbee to the woods.

NOT REPORTED

According to the police, the tragedy was discovered on Saturday, October 10, when the body of McAbee was found beside a log, with a forearm shattered by gunshot death entered the body. As the accident was not then reported, the police began investigation at the site.

Mr. Hinkes, who is the proprietor of a stage line that plies between Clinton and Ashcroft, was arrested before a magistrate after his voluntary surrender, five days after the plane disappeared on a $5,000 preliminary hearing. He was one of a second party of hunters who had given evidence at the inquest, it developed.

REGINA AIRMAN

DIES IN CRASH

Pilot Escapes When Plane Falls Two Hundred Feet—Machine Destroyed by Fire

REGINA, Oct. 19 (CP).—Trapped in the front seat of a Cessna Moth owned by the Regina Air Club, William Rogers, Regina youth, was carried to his death shortly before noon Sunday when the plane dived from a height of 200 feet and crashed with terrific force into the ground.

WYNNARD, Sask.

The machine burst into flames and Yasinaki, who occupied the rear seat, barely managed to escape. He suffered a badly burned face, bruised arms and cuts and was badly shaken.

WERE RETURNING HOME

The two left here Sunday morning for Wynyard, in which district Yasinaki's parents reside. Another machine, owned by Jack Hames, of Regina, but piloted by Steve Alburt, accompanied the two.

Both planes landed safely at Wynyard and remained an hour. They then took off for the farm of Yasinaki's father, Mr. C. G. Gelling.

Alburt took off first and Yasinaki followed him. Both climbed perfectly. When about 200 feet in the air, Yasinaki's plane suddenly nose-dived and struck the ground with terrific force.

HOLDS ALL AGE RECORDS

One, it is recorded, died almost immediately, but the other, clinging tenaciously to an existence of some thousands of years, has been shipped to geologists at Ottawa.

With special precautions to preserve it intact, the surviving lizard was shipped by Henry C. Gelling, of Hudson's Hope, to the C. M. Sternburg Geological Survey laboratories at Ottawa.

The miners claim credit for having discovered this continent's oldest living inhabitants.

COUGAR MAKES ATTACK ON BOY

Father's Presence of Mind Averts Tragedy When Son Is Pursued

KYUQUOT, Oct. 14 (By Mail).—The presence of mind of William Salo here today probably averted the death of himself and his nine-year-old son, Ray, from the attack of a cougar which gave chase to the boy while on his way to school.

The boy had just left the house when the cougar stepped out in the path ahead of him. Calling to his father, who was cutting wood on the beach, a short distance away, the boy ran to Mr. Salo's side, with the animal in pursuit. Mr. Salo picked up a stone and threw it at the cougar, which stopped for a few seconds.

Realizing the necessity of acting quickly, Mr. Salo picked up his child and ran to the house with the animal close on their heels, reaching the door in the nick of time.

Mr. Salo immediately went for his gun and, cautiously opening the door, found the cougar ready to spring on him. He took quick aim and shot the animal point blank as it came for him, killing it outright.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (CP).—Armistice Day, November 11, will be observed throughout Canada as a public holiday, according to the act passed at the last session of Parliament, regulating observance of the cessation of hostilities on November 11, 1918.

The occasion will be celebrated in the same manner as Canadian people celebrate Labor Day, Dominion Day, and other national holidays, according to the meaning of the act, it was said today at the office of the Secretary of State.

Two Preglacial Lizards Are Found Alive and Well

Preserved. It is thought, from the preglacial age, before even the dinosaurs roamed this continent, two lizards, firmly embedded in a seam of anthracite coal at Hudson's Hope, south of Rocky Mountain Canyon, were discovered by miners recently and are now the centre of scientific surprise, for they were found alive.

Relayed from residents in the Peace River district, the account of the discovery reached the Department of Agriculture here yesterday.

Miners in the Hudson's Hope workings, immediately south of Rocky Mountain Canyon, turned their picks into a seam of coal that must have been formed countless centuries ago from the luxuriant vegetation of the Northwest before the ice cap enlarged. They came on These contracts are for materials required in the first part of the city's unemployment relief programme, which involves an expenditure of $302,000, and which will take care of practically all of the married unemployed now on the registration list.

THE contracts call for delivery within nine weeks and this will enable the city engineer to start gangs on trench digging about November 16, and actual pipe laying shortly after.

THE programme, under which the above expenditures will occur, is divided into three sections, viz., Sook and Goldstream water connection; a twenty-inch feeder main across the city, and extensions to the distributing system.

CONNECTING THE SOOK AND GOLDSTREAM WATER SYSTEMS IS WORK THAT HAS BEEN ADVOCATED FOR SEVERAL YEARS AS A MEASURE TO PROTECT THE CITY'S WATER SUPPLY IN THE EVENT OF ONE OF THE OTHER SYSTEMS FAILING TO OPERATE.

THIS work will entail the laying of a thirty-inch steel main from Craigflower Road at Burleigh Drive, via Victoria Street, Indian Reserve, crossing Point Ellice bridge, and then via Pleasant Street to David Street, ending there. This work will cost approximately $125,000.

THE twenty-inch feeder main will run east and west across the city generally, on Hillside Avenue, Blanshard Street, Fort Street and Leighton Road to Foul Bay Road. The laying of this main requires the present large drop in daily precipitation.

Fanned by a strong wind, fire which broke out at 2:30 o'clock this morning completely destroyed Burleigh, the old Dunsmead home on Selkirk Avenue in Victoria West. Sparks and flames were carried high by the wind and the fire attracted attention throughout the city district. It was sighted at sea, and one ship wireless to learn the cause of the glare.

The building was unoccupied. No estimate of the loss could be obtained at time of going to press.

Street Riots Result When Hitler Troops Seize Town Control

German National Socialists Take Control of Brunswick—Two Killed and Many Wounded in Fighting—Move Is Show of Strength

(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—Under the tolerant eyes of the Brunswick police, 30,000 National Socialist shock troops took temporary possession of the town of Brunswick over the week-end, passing armed through the streets and imposing their extralegal authority upon all whom they chose.

As a result of two days of street fighting, two persons are dead, naturally workmen, and sixty-five are wounded.

Six hundred policemen claim to have been unable to keep order. Witnesses declare that they never saw a German soldier in the hands of armed stalwarts of Adolf Hitler, who is bent on showing the Government just how he can take revenge for Chancellor Heinrich Brüning's victory over Herr Hitler in the Reichstag.

LIKE "NATIONAL MILITIA"

Since the police system belongs to the states, and since the State of Brunswick is virtually in the hands of National Socialists, the authorities there apparently already consider the Hitler boys as a kind of "national militia" like that of Prussia Benito Mussolini of Italy.

This impression is further strengthened by Herr Hitler's statement that the "only way to maintain order in Germany during the Winter is to give the Government to those who alone are in a position to accept responsibility for it," namely, Herr Hitler himself.

TROUBLE IS EXPECTED

The National Socialists aim at breaking the power of organized labor, as Signor Mussolini did before the march on Rome. With 5,000,000 unemployed, the temper even of the patient German masses is severely tried, and further provocation by the National Socialists seems virtually certain to mean anything but a quiet Winter.

The Berlin Government has announced that the incident in Brunswick has been grossly exaggerated and that it cannot intervene. Witnesses are of another opinion.

MISSING FINES UNDER REVIEW

Vancouver Police Court
Clerk Closely Questioned
at Civic Inquiry

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—In their efforts to trace $12,538 in fines that have not reached the city treasurer's department since 1919, the special committee appointed by the City Council will resume its inquiry into the administration of the police court clerk's department tomorrow morning.

It is expected that Walter H. Firkins will be the first witness examined. He will be followed by Charles J. Biddiss and Earl E. Robinson, suspended head of the department, who will also be re-examined.

Robinson was cross-examined by Corporation Counsel George E. McCrossan, K.C., this morning regarding the missing fine of $1,000 paid in the Wing case. He told witnesses that when reporting the absconding of Jessup there was no mention of the missing fine. "On July 19, 1922, you wrote to the bonding company, stating that yesterday I made the discovery that Jessup was considerably short in cash. With the assistance of the city auditors we discovered that the shortage was $3,494."

THE WING FINE

Counsel told Robinson that it was clear that Jessup had nothing to do with the $1,000 Wing fine. "You admit you received the money. Can you explain where it went?"

The auditor came on Saturday for the checkup. Monday was a holiday. On Tuesday they proceeded, witness replied.

"In your report to the chief of police you say that you became suspicious that something must be wrong. You went on to say that 'I broke open the cash box and found Jessup had taken the money.' Mr. McCrossan said:

"Mr. McCrossan recalled the previous evidence of the witness in which he said the auditors had opened the cash box with a piece of steel. He suggested that the little touch about the auditors opening the box was entirely for the benefit of the committee.

SPECIFIED SHORTAGES

Counsel specified yearly shortages, namely, 1919, $583; 1920, $1,078; 1921, $2,866; 1922, $15. Of these alleged shortages, McCrossan said, a total of $583 was covered by Robinson's own entries. "Can you explain these?" counsel asked.

"Not of hand," Robinson replied.

Mr. McCrossan read a letter from Clark, a clerk in the department, who, Robinson said in his evidence at the first hearing, had acted as messenger in cashing a cheque for $150. Clark, in his statement, said he "absolutely refused any such statement."

"Do you still stick to your story?" counsel asked Robinson.

"I am going to steal money," he answered. "I would not go to a bank where I was well known to cash a cheque."

CEASED IN APRIL

Mr. McCrossan told Robinson that defalcations ceased in April this year. Robinson said he did not know the reason for that.

Counsel pointed out that there had been four cashiers since 1919, Robinson, Jessup, Firkins and Biddiss. "The same hand, the one man, is responsible, not four. Is that right? Would you not come to the conclusion that not four different men but one man, with one hand to play, did it? And that one man would be well acquainted with police court procedure?"

"That is the way it looks," replied Robinson.

Mr. Biddiss informed the committee that Robinson frequently asked him to cash personal cheques for him. He declared that they were usually for $10 or $25. He would sometimes tell Biddiss to hold them for a few days and then would instruct him when to release them.

"1. No gold coin, gold bullion or fine gold bars shall hereafter be exported from the Dominion of Canada except under the authority of a license issued by the Minister of Finance of Canada, or by someone designated by him to act on his behalf.

"2. No such license shall be granted to other than a Canadian chartered bank.

HEAVY PENALTIES

"3. Everyone who, without a license issued by or on behalf of the Minister of Finance, as aforesaid, exports or attempts to export or carries or attempts to carry out of Canada any gold coin, gold bullion or fine gold bars, shall be liable upon summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $1,000, imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years, or to both fine and imprisonment.

ANNIVERSARY OF CHURCH OBSERVED

Nearly Two Hundred Attend Banquet Marking Fifth Year of Fairfield United

Celebrating the fifth year of the founding of the new church, nearly 200 members of the congregation gathered at Fairfield United last night for the anniversary supper. A programme of vocal and instrumental numbers, interspersed with addresses of congratulations from visiting pastors was enjoyed during the evening.

Rev. Hugh Nixon, pastor of the church, presided. Seated at the head table were: Mrs. Nixon; Col. D. Campbell, superintendent of the Sunday School; Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Church, of Metropolitan United; Rev. Dr. E. A. Henry, of West Vancouver; Rev. James Hood, and Mrs. S. E. Keefe, first vice-president of the Women's Association, representing Mrs. G. Piercy, president, who was absent owing to illness.

In addressing the gathering, Rev. Dr. Henry dealt briefly with the antagonistic feeling which existed between the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches prior to the union. He pointed out the progress made with the present, when all work co-operatively and the progress since the union was referred to.

OFFERS CONGRATULATIONS

In brief manner congratulations on the anniversary were offered by Rev. E. F. Church, who declared that he was happy to share in the activities of the church.

Mr. Nixon, on behalf of the Women's Association, members of which were responsible for the entertainment programme, welcomed the large gathering.

Community singing and selections by the choir were under the direction of Major Harry Waite, while others who contributed instrumental and vocal numbers were: Mrs. E. Woodward, Miss Grace Platt, Miss F. Ockenden, Miss Olive Campbell and Master Billy Inglis.

Thanks to the women for their efforts in making the affair a success were extended by A. C. Charlton.

tures in the business district and Fairfield and also would enable more water to be sold in Oak Bay. This work is approved by the city council and advocated by the insurance underwriters. The cost, including materials and labor, is approximately $125,000.

The cost of the general extension to the existing distribution system will be around $52,000, inclusive of materials and labor.

Work is to be done under the agreement between the municipality, the Provincial Government and the Dominion Government as to labor costs only.

COMPROMISE ON BIDS

The special meeting of the council, in committee, lasted nearly four hours, commencing at 9 o'clock in the morning. The main discussion was on the bids for the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway extension to Prince George. It was unanimously believed to have been based on the employment of between 15,000 and 16,000 men for a period of from six to seven months.

The British Columbia programme recently submitted to Ottawa, after revision to make way for the inclusion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway extension to Prince George, is unofficially believed to have been based on the employment of between 15,000 and 16,000 men for a period of from six to seven months.

The costs were figured, it is believed, on the basis of expenditures at the rate of $3.50 a day on account of each man, and $40 per head during the period for camp equipment and other charges. On this basis the employment of 15,000 men for seven months would entail a cost of approximately $9,750,000, while 10,000 men for the same period would cost $6,500,000. For six months the larger programme would cost $8,475,000, and the smaller one, $5,650,000.

Over 11,000 men are already at work on provincial undertakings.

Obsèques of Great Inventor

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 19.—For a brief moment at midday, today, mourners stopped a continuous file past the bier of Thomas A. Edison—a minister offered a prayer.

The convocation was uttered by Mrs. Edison's pastor, Rev. Arthur H. Brown, of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Orange, at her request. He repeated it at 5 o'clock, and planned to utter it again at 8 a.m. and 9 p.m. tomorrow.

Mr. Edison's body lay in a bronze casket in a niche of the pine-paneled, high-ceilinged library of his laboratory. Autumn leaves covered the bier.

The funeral will be at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday from Glenmont, the Edison estate, with burial in Rose-dale Cemetery at Orange.

Rev. Stephen J. Herben, who, while pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Orange, from 1913 to 1916, enjoyed a close friendship with Mr. Edison, will conduct the funeral service, unassisted.

The service will be private, but Henry Ford and Harvey Firestone, the inventor's celebrated cronies, will join the family in attendance. President Hoover hopes to be present, but has been unable to plan definitely.

Mr. MacDonald sought to impress on the electors of Seaham that notwithstanding the fact they earn only small weekly incomes, these matters of national import concern them deeply. He declared the policy of the Opposition has nothing to do with the immediate problems of the crisis.

"It's a cure which will kill the ailing patient," he said, "nobody ought, however, to be misled by the Socialists that this is true." The Prime Minister said of the Labor party's programme.

Mr. MacDonald asserted he had abandoned none of the principles or ideals which have kept him going through both fair and foul weather. The audience this afternoon was decidedly less turbulent, and Mr. MacDonald resolutely refused to be thrown from matters of national importance by side issues in the campaign.

WANTED DELAY

An offer by Rt. Hon. Lloyd George, calling Liberal leader who is staying in the Surrey Hills, to make a journey to London to confer with the Prime Minister and Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative Lord President of the Council in the National Government, today was resisted by Mr. Lloyd George himself in a letter addressed to a Welsh correspondent who had urged the desirability of his co-operation with MacDonald and the Conservative leader.

"On the only occasion on which I have seen Mr. MacDonald since the present administration was formed," Mr. Lloyd George's letter says, "I assured him of my readiness to enter into conference with him and Mr. Baldwin to see whether an agreement could not be reached upon a programme of emergency features to deal with the crisis. Further," the letter continues, "as I realized it would not be possible for them to keep in close touch with me if I were in Churt, Mr. Lloyd George's country residence, I offered to make a journey to London by ambulance. I have received no further communication from either of them since making this offer. Instead, on the evening of that very day, it was decided to hold an immediate general election."

Mr. Henderson alluded to his having built up a Labor party machine, "the machine which MacDonald now derides. Never did I expect to find such treatment meted out to a movement by its former leader," he said.

CAREER ENDED

Capt. G. W. Groundwater,

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (CP).—A colorful career aboard sail and steam vessels, which took him to practically every corner of the globe, ended in Vancouver Saturday night when death claimed Capt. George William Groundwater, R.N.R., aged fifty-three. He held a master mariner's certificate for both sail and steam.

When a youth of fourteen he went to sea on the square-rigger City of Florence, from his birthplace, Orkney Islands, Scotland. It was aboard ship that he first saw the North Pacific Coast. On this vessel he rose from the rank of cabin boy to that of first mate.

Later he transferred to the square-rigger Trafalgar as chief officer, and was aboard this vessel when she was wrecked on the Brazilian coast. His voyages took him around Cape Horn thirteen times.

Large Sums Would Be Entailed in

British Columbia, in company with other provinces, has been requested by Ottawa to reduce the size of its unemployment programme, it was learned yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. Ottawa has asked for a material reduction, it is understood, and the revision is now under way in this regard.

In the absence of leaders of the Government no official statement was made on the issue.

The British Columbia programme recently submitted to Ottawa, after revision to make way for the inclusion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway extension to Prince George, is unofficially believed to have been based on the employment of between 15,000 and 16,000 men for a period of from six to seven months.

TOO MUCH GAS
IN STOMACH

A Little Bismarck Magnesia
After Meals Gives Instant Relief

People who have stomach trouble, who are always full of gas after eating, and who suffer from bloating, sourness, heartburn and indigestion should try taking a little pure Bismarck Magnesia after meals for a while and note results.

Gas and wind in the stomach are almost certain indications of the presence of "too much acid," and Bismarck Magnesia will instantly neutralize or dissolve this acid, stop the sourness and fermentation and drive the gas and bloating right out of the body. Relief is almost immediate.

Bismarck Magnesia is obtainable from reliable druggists everywhere in sealed packages of either powder or tablets. Do not confuse with milk, citrate or lump magnesia. Bismarck Magnesia is especially prepared for stomach troubles, is harmless and inexpensive, is not a laxative, and is used regularly by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. Main Tourist Attraction,

tising Assistance

Figures released by the Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa show that Canada's tourist industry has exceeded the $275,000,000 mark per year for the past two years, making it the third largest of the Dominion's industries, according to A. G. Bolton, recently named chairman of a committee of the chamber of commerce appointed to foster salmon fly-fishing on Vancouver Island. Frank Higgins and Arthur Denny are the other members of the committee.

"Every province of Canada has its natural attractions," Mr. Bolton said, "but rather than have attractions which only bring tourists once, it is of greater importance to make the Dominion so attractive that visitors will return yearly. Various ways and means are offered of entertaining them, among these being golfing, shooting and fishing."

DEVELOP ISLAND
In British Columbia big game hunting might be developed far excellence on the Mainland, he continued, while the natural attraction to be developed on Vancouver Island is the fishing. Properly advertised, Vancouver Island would bring yearly thousands of tourists, who would spend thousands of dollars at the island.

TELEPHONE IS WIDELY USED

N. F. Pullen Tells Gyros of Operation of Service
Throughout World

One million dollars will be the cost of British Columbia's share of the first all-Canadian telephone service, to extend from Pacific to Atlantic, according to N. F. Pullen, Vancouver public manager of the British Columbia Telephone Company, in an address given at the Gyro Club luncheon yesterday afternoon. The line will be completed by the end of the year, he said.

Details of the operation and the world-wide use of the telephone were told the club members by Pullen, who illustrated the talk with a map of the world, which pointed out the various line, cable and wireless systems encircling the globe.

The use of the telephone at the present time is so universal that a man calling the owner of a telephone in the twenty-five countries that use them, calling at the rate of one a minute, would require sixty years to complete the task, asserted the speaker.

CALLS TO SHIPS
The way in which a person in Victoria might call a passenger aboard certain transatlantic liners was described by Mr. Pullen.

The possibility of Victoria being linked with a service to Hawaii during Christmas time was also told by Mr. Pullen. The line would be made possible through the co-operation of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company and its interests in Hawaii.

In answer to many inquiries as to why wireless was used in place of cable in transatlantic calls, Mr. Pullen stated that ships, hargaret Helen and Mary, all of Vancouver, and by two brothers in Colorado and two sisters in Prince Edward Island.

LINE IS SUCCESS

The success of his company's radio telephone service from Vancouver, north to Powell River, Ocean Falls, Prince Rupert and Kelowna was related by the speaker, who said that Victorians might now converse with Kelowna by means of cable to Campbell River and then by wireless to the Northern points.

The original experiments of Alexander Graham Bell, which brought about the use of the telephone, were described by Mr. Pullen.

on Sunday

C. H. Coldwell, of 240 Russell Street, who was shot while hunting Sunday, is recovering from his wounds. It was reported yesterday by attendants at the Jubilee Hospital.

The accident happened at East Sooke, between East and West Sooke Roads, William E. Eddy, of East Sooke, who was hunting with his father, reported to police he had fired the shot which struck Mr. Coldwell.

Dr. E. C. Hart, his physician, said that his condition was not grave, but that he would require medical attention for some time, as the shot had penetrated the lung in one place.

Mr. Coldwell was hunting with his brother and J. Pea, of Wollaston Street, when the accident occurred. He was able to walk out of the bush to the highway and was brought to the city by a private car.

Vancouver Mayor To Finish Term

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (CP).—From his bed at St. Paul's Hospital Sunday night, at 6:30, Mayor Louis D. Taylor displayed old-time fighting spirit when he declared, in a radio broadcast, that he will complete his term of office despite his sickness. He assured his audience that in a few weeks he will be on his feet again.

The Mayor declared that he had not lost his energy, vitality or vision. He stated that, in hospital, he realized that he had made mistakes in the past, and those errors would be avoided in the future.

"My numerous friends thought that because of the many rumors reporting me nearly dead, I should broadcast a message assuring everyone that I am still alive. Not that I mind passing out, but the more people you have wishing for your recovery, the sooner you get better."

POPULAR MINE OFFICIAL DEAD

Hector Macdonald, Former Superintendent of Premier
Gold, Passes Away

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—British Columbia's mining industry lost one of its ablest executives when Hector Macdonald, for twelve years superintendent of Premier gold mine at Premier, died at the family residence, 5030 Blenheim Street, at 1:30 a.m. today. Failing health forced Mr. Macdonald's retirement six weeks ago, but until that time he directed with unusual success one of Canada's most famous producing mines.

He is survived by his wife and four daughters, Janet, Margaret, Helen and Mary, all of Vancouver, and by two brothers in Colorado and two sisters in Prince Edward Island.

Born at Springfield, P.E.I., fifty-seven years ago, Mr. Macdonald started his career in the mining industry in Leadville and other mining centres of Colorado. He was for a time in the Kootenay area of British Columbia during the late nineties.

TRANSFERRED TO PREMIER
In 1919 he was transferred by the American Smelting & Refining Co. in whose employ he had been for some time, and was given the post of superintendent of the Premier gold mine, an A.S. & R. subsidiary. In the intervening years Premier has achieved a dividend record which is attributed to its small capitalization, has had few parallels in mining history. Much of the credit for the mine's successful development is attributed to its superintendent, who became one of the most popular and most highly respected mining men in the province.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

THRILLS OF SLAM BIDDING

To contract players bidding for slams provides a tremendous thrill—much greater than is experienced in setting an opponent for the equivalent penalty score. This, I think, is quite natural, because the bidding and making of a slam has in it the elements of a real achievement. Inflicting a penalty, however severe, somehow for most contract players lacks the allure of bidding and making of their own contract, and particularly is this so when that contract is for a slam. This psychological factor, therefore, enters largely into contract bidding and results in defeating many hands worth game, but not worth slam. The formula for safe slam bidding is not at all difficult to understand, and losses at this phase of the game would not be great if players would use the honor trick yardstick to measure the slam probabilities as accurately as they make use of the yardstick to determine game probabilities.

From out in the great open spaces of the West, where men are not only men, but frequently expert contract players as well, they come to me from Mr. Arthur N. Cowperthwaite of Tucson, Arizona, the story of an actually bid and beautifully played slam.

Both sides vulnerable.

BUY CARLOAD OF REMOUNTS

Nicola and Kamloops Areas to Supply $4,000 Order for R.C.M.P.

Purchase of remounts for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has been effected at several British Columbia points, and $4,000 worth of animals will be shipped to the remount depot of the force as a result, it was stated yesterday by Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture. The purchase involved a carload shipment of geldings from points in Nicola and Kamloops areas.

Two inspectors of the Federal force made the purchases, selecting geldings between three and seven years of age and well broken and trained. Fine, sturdy animals in the light horse division, the mounts brought from $100 to $175 apiece, it is understood.

Mr. Atkinson paid tribute to the policy of the Federal Department of Agriculture, which maintains stations in these areas contributing to the development of a fine strain of light horses. The purchase for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is the first in recent years and has acted as a great encouragement to stockbreeders in the Interior, it was reported.

Police Commence Campaign to Curb Traffic in Drugs

Victoria police authorities, assisted by officers of the narcotic squad of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, have commenced an active campaign to rid the city of active operators in the distribution of narcotics.

In the city police court, yesterday morning, six Chinese were charged with being in possession of opium and with being in a place where the narcotic was being used. Lee Chong and Lee Kwan Shee, man and wife, are held on bail of $1,000 each to appear in one week to respond to charges of being in possession of opium. Police found eighteen decks of opium on the premises at 1633 Government Street, when they conducted a raid on the place.

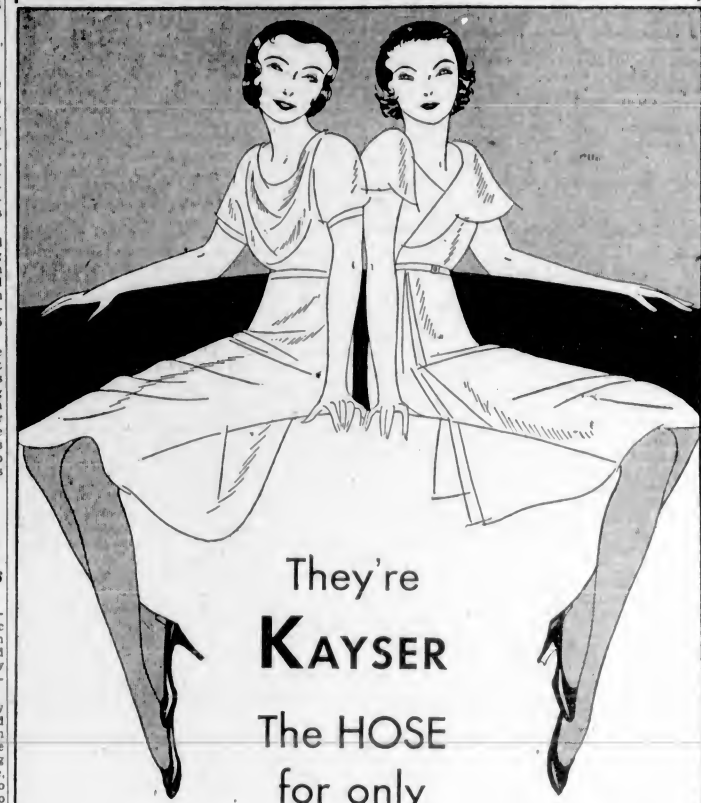

Chin Coon, who was taken in the raid, pleaded guilty to being a frequenter, and was fined $50 and costs. Lim Chong, charged with being in possession of opium, was remanded for a week on bail of $1,000. Detective J. McCallan and a squad were instrumental in unearthing the drugs.

As a result of investigations of Detectives Henry Jarvis and Pearson Woodburn, Lee Sam Pong and Wong How were taken on charges of being in possession of drugs. Lee Sam pleaded guilty and was remanded to this morning for sentence, and Wong was remanded for one week.

Mounted police officers have a white man in custody awaiting trial on a charge of being in possession of drugs.

SAFECRACKERS ON MAINLAND ACTIVE

More Than $3,000 Obtained by Vancouver Thieves—Two Safes
Are Blasted

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (CP).—Three Hastings Street stores were victims of an efficient safecracking gang over the week-end. The total loot obtained was $3,150. Empire Beer Parlor, Columbia and Hastings, lost $1,500; Copp's Shoe-teria, West Hastings, $1,300, and Millar & Coe, Limited, West Hastings, $350.

The men who broke into the Empire Beer Parlor did not bother to blow the small safe, but carried it off in an auto. They entered the basement of the premises through the street pavement delivery chute, and from there reached the main floor by forcing a door.

They trundled the safe to a rear door and apparently loaded it into a automobile.

MUFFLED IN BLANKETS
In Copp's Shoeateria the burglars used a quantity of nitroglycerine to blow the safe. They obtained entrance to the building through the roof and bored the lock of a door to the store premises. Blankets were used to muffle the explosion when the safe was cracked.

The men who broke into Millar & Coe's store failed in their attempt to blow the safe, so chiseled off the combination and forced the tumblers. They obtained entrance through a skylight. A length of fuse which apparently had failed to burn was found near the safe. Hoies had been bored in the door.

THE PASSING OF A GENIUS

No man of his time had a life more crowded with achievement of benefit to his fellow men than the late Mr. Thomas Alva Edison. The period of his active career extended over two generations. Up to the time of his fatal illness he was working in his laboratory, and his working day far exceeded the allotted Trades Union span. It was as true of him as of any other genius in the scroll of time that he tired himself out, but not until he had achieved a ripe old age and a record that has seldom if ever been paralleled even at intervals of centuries. He was both the greatest of modern inventors and the greatest of Americans since that country became a nation. When history visualizes his career in its true perspective there is no doubt that this will be its verdict.

Thomas Edison was possessed of no particular educational benefits. To all intents and purposes he was a self-educated man. He began his working career as a newsboy on the Grand Trunk Railway, and as a child worker he lived for some time in Montreal. His inventive mind was acting at this early age and it found expression in the setting up and printing on the train to which he was attached of a news sheet—The Grand Trunk Herald. It was in gratitude for his having saved the little daughter of a station agent from being run over by a locomotive that the father taught Edison the elements of telegraph operating. From this beginning a train of inventions took shape with a series specially dealing with telegraphy—the automatic repeater, the quadruplex and printing telegraph, the sextuplex method of transmission, etc. The inventor was launched on his career.

Thomas Edison went on from his telegraphic inventions to perfect a steady flow of novelties in practical electricity. He invented the carbon telephone transmitter, the microtactometer, the phonograph, the cinematograph (which his improvements made possible), a method of preparing carbon filaments for the incandescent electric lamp, and the first talking pictures by synchronizing the motion picture and phonograph. In the war years he placed the resources of his laboratory at the service of the Allied cause. He successfully dealt with the detection of submarines by sound from moving vessels and devised a type of projectile that would enter the water without ricochet. He also designed and took charge of plants for the manufacture of chemicals used in warfare, and invented a portable searchlight fed by a storage battery and more powerful than the acetylene lamp.

In all more than 900 patents were granted to Edison. They represented a lifetime's effort that in its aggregate has been more beneficial to mankind than any work of one man through centuries past. His inventions led to the establishment of new industries which gave work to thousands. Those inventions in their distribution brought pleasure and recreation to multitudes all over the world. No inventor's name has ever been more widely known. The man himself was eminently modest. It was only in later years that he relaxed from what might almost have been called a policy of silence, and then only when pressed for his views on some current happenings. The fact was that he was immersed in his work and had no time for idle talk. He was a thinker and a doer and he had that kind of genius which Carlyle described as "an infinite capacity for taking pains."

Thomas Edison has been a beacon light in scientific history, one who has pointed the way by practical results to what lies within the power of man to achieve. Rising from the humblest beginnings he was able to show his passport for recognition at every turnpike on the road of life. He has left a reputation in the realm of invention, for variety and far-reaching importance on the development of facilities brought to the homes of the human race, that has never been heretofore equalled.

BANKS AND GOVERNMENTS

Modern mentality is a peculiar thing in relation to its knowledge of the ordinary course of events. Recently there has come about criticism from the Labor Party in Britain on the grounds that it was driven from power at the dictation of the bankers. The Laborites had to find a scapegoat for their failure in office. They chose the financial system and attacked it because it did not place the purse of Fortunatus at their disposal.

A bank in dealing with a Government as well as a private individual, has every right to make terms when it gives a loan. In the matter of a private individual it demands collateral. In the matter of a Government, whether national, provincial or municipal, there is no deposit of securities. Elected authorities in securing loans do so on the strength of their financial position; in other words, on the basis of their budgets. It is those budgets that banks must scrutinize carefully. They can legitimately criticize when loans are demanded and they can suggest that a sane quota non of credit is a balanced budget. The banking system is a most effective check on governmental extravagance. If ever it should come about that a government should own and operate the banks, then God help the nation.

What so many people appear to forget is that a banker does not lend his own money, but that of his clients. He is the trustee and is bound to see that the security is good. Where a government has created such conditions that its credit is wavering a bank has no right to lend it money. That was the situation which developed under a Labor Government's rule in Britain. That Government, before its downfall, was considering printing money to pay the debt to the unemployed. It would have created a currency which would have steadily depreciated. There would have been a constant slackening in the power of the people to purchase the necessities of life. Finally, in every probability, the wage-earner and the unemployed would have refused the paper currency, just as happened in France and Germany. The latter two countries were saved in a similar manner to the process which is now being implemented to save Britain. It is a process inexorably approved by the experience of the ages.

MANCHURIA

It is questionable if anything has been gained by the insistence of the League of Nations in meddling with the differences that exist between Japan and China in the Manchurian dispute. What adds more complexity to the situation is the invitation extended by the League, and accepted, for the inclusion of the United States in the efforts to promote a settlement. Japan insists that she can settle her own difficulties with China, just as they have been settled so often before. In fact, the two countries were on the eve of direct negotiations at the time the League of Nations intervened.

There are matters affecting the future of Manchuria which are best left to settlement in an entirely Oriental setting. The question of self determination is at issue. There are autonomy movements in progress there. Undoubtedly the process whereby Manchuria was brought within the orbit of Nanking is resented in many quarters. One autonomy movement is in the direction of the restoration of the Manchurian dynasty on a Manchurian throne. Another is for an autonomous republican state. These are complicating features in the situation and of a character that will embarrass the League of Nations in its efforts to find a modus vivendi. As matters stand, most of the Japanese troops have been withdrawn within the railway zone. There are some Japanese gendarmes on duty in Mukden and a few troops stationed at Kirin, Tunhua, Changchiatun and Sianmifu. The conditions are favorable to direct negotiations, but these must be postponed owing to the action taken by the League of Nations.

A speaker before the British Association has been dealing with the voice as an expression of personality. This is a matter in which the science of psychology does not seem to have made much advance. It is recognized that the voice may connote personality, but more knowledge is required before its connection with character is determined. The importance of the voice has been brought into greater relief in these latter days through broadcasting, sound films and the increased use of the telephone. Professor T. H. Pear, in a paper he read on the subject before the British Association, complained of the neglect of the teaching of speech in the schools.

British supremacy in speed is well established. She holds the world's records for aeroplanes, motor cars, motorcycles and motor boats. The figures are:

Aeroplanes—Flight-Lieutenant Stainforth, 408 miles per hour.

Motor-cars—Sir Malcolm Campbell, 246.09 miles per hour.

Motor-cycles—Mr. J. S. Wright, 150.7 miles per hour.

Motor-boats—Mr. Kaye Don, 110 miles per hour.

INCOME TAX AND SUFFRAGE

One of the grossest anomalies of our present constitution is the exemption of the great majority of the electors from direct taxation. Roughly, the number of income tax payers in Great Britain is 2,150,000 and the number of electors 25,000,000. If every elector were made liable to income tax in proportion to his means, the whole attitude of Parliament to the question of national economy would be changed within a very few weeks. At present economy has no electioneering value, and most members of Parliament will vote for any expenditure that appeals to even a small group of their constituents, regardless of its effect on national finance.—Harold Cox in The Contemporary Review.

THE REMONETIZATION OF SILVER

Silver is the key to the monetary situation which can provide egress from the world's present plight. The destruction of the silver money of such vast communities as India and China, under the influence of the gold monomania that has obsessed London and New York, has not only plunged those unfortunate countries into discontent and chaos, but has enormously aggravated the crisis elsewhere by providing a further fall of prices, and destroying the trade of countries such as Great Britain who cannot sell her goods to nations deprived of the means of paying for them owing to the wholesale demonetization of silver, which has in effect halved their wealth.—Leo Marx in The National Review.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

We would not say that the latter draw. With good opinion of the law.

—John Trumbull.

Nobody seems to have a kind word to say for the bankers in these days of acute business depression.

A few evenings ago we met a lawyer who could not find words harsh enough in which to express his opinion of banks and bankers. This brilliant light of the legal profession had about as good an opinion of the banks and the bankers as some of his clients have for the law. We have heard some of the unfortunate unemployed who assemble on a street corner in the neighborhood of three banking institutions speak bitterly of the conduct of bankers, but, probably because their vocabulary was more limited, none of these unfortunate was quite so vituperative in expressions as the more gifted limb of the law.

According to dispatches printed in the newspapers, the state of the public mind in Europe is almost as bitterly hostile to the banks and the bankers as the unemployed workers and the badly employed lawyer of Victoria. We do not believe that peculiar state of mind is general. We cannot but believe that such a state of mind is limited, but there is little doubt that it represents a considerable element, nor that that element attributes the depression to the conduct of the banks and the bankers.

We do not know why we are moved to say a word in favor of the banks, for we owe nothing to the bankers, and we are almost sure the bankers will take care that we shall never owe anything to them. We think that possibly the impulse is due to that disposition, quite common in mankind, and more common in womenkind, to take the part of the underdog in a rough and tumble fight.

There is a too common impression upon the too common mind that there are tremendous stores of money in the banks and that it is the business of the bankers to furnish all sorts and conditions of men with any amount of that money upon demand. There is a restricted and foolish impression that if the banks had loosened up when demands for money were made upon them that there would have been no business depression, that the times would have continued to boom just as they boomed two or more years ago. There is a restricted and foolish impression that all the money in the banks is the money of the bankers, and that as owners of the money, the bankers can do as they please with it, whereas all the moneys in all the banks are funds deposited in the banks on trust by the public, and the custodians thereof are both legally and morally bound not to permit a dollar of the accumulated wealth to pass out of their possession without absolute security that it will be returned with accrued interest.

We can remember the time when the boom was in full bloom and nearing the bursting point. At that time the banks were issuing warnings against the dangers of the speculative craze and doing their best to restrict borrowing for dangerous and illusive speculative purposes. We can remember that at that perilous time the banks were assailing their conservative policy. And we can remember that the banks were assailed by one newspaper commentator who boasts that his bleats of wisdom of more than human magnitude are read by millions of people every morning and evening; that the Federal Reserve Bank of the United States was attacked almost daily for a long time because it had increased the rates of interest for the wise purpose of restricting loans and keeping the boom below the bursting point.

But the orgy of speculation had got beyond the control of the bankers. It ran its course and it burst and wrecked the economic structure not only of the United States but of the whole of the business world. The business depression, therefore, was not the work of the bankers. It has affected the United States more acutely than it has affected Canada, because the business of the Canadian banks was more conservative, and they were not so heavily involved in the speculative conduct of the business of the banks of the United States. There have been no bank failures in Canada and no depositors in the Canadian banks have been ruined, thus adding materially to the evils of the depression. There have been thousands of bank failures in the United States, and thousands of depositors in the banks financially impoverished.

But the truth of this matter will not stop silly attacks.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of October 20, 1881.)

Fire to Be Investigated—Owing to the general feeling that the fire at the Willows last week was of incendiary origin, an investigation into its cause will be held next Monday.

Strikes Among the Chinese—The Chinese railway workers have declared a strike because of the bad weather and the school tax, and are arriving in this city in droves.

Minister Shoots Plover—Fred Gere, formerly of Victoria, shot and killed James Kelly in Walla Walla last evening. The shooting was the outcome of a quarrel which started earlier in the evening during the performance of one of their acts.

A Failure—The attempted land sale held at Nanaimo was a total failure, not one person offering to bid on any of the lots offered. As all the property put up was land claimed by the Government for back taxes, it is wondered what the next move will be.

Arrived in Town—W. H. Lader, second vice-president of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, arrived in town yesterday. He was accompanied by his wife and family.

by ignorant persons on the street corners, by prejudiced persons on the street cars, nor ill-formed writers on the newspapers, on the sound and safe policy of the banks. The only satisfaction we shall get out of the matter is the satisfaction we always get from the taking the part of the underdog in the fight or the weaker party in a human squabble on the street. We know that if we were to approach a bank manager today in the hope of negotiating a loan that would tide us over an existing and probably permanent depression and plunge us into even greater depths, we could not get the money without ample security, but we also know that the banker would be right.

ASK NEW PLAN OF INSURANCE

B.C. School Trustees Protest Council Representation on Salary Body

Establishment of a Government plan of insurance for all school buildings in British Columbia was recommended to the Provincial Government yesterday by a delegation from the executive of the British Columbia School Trustees' Association. The delegation also asked extension of the period of training at Provincial Normal schools from nine months, as at present, to two years, to give a broader preparation to those who take up the calling of teaching.

A uniform plan of insurance for school buildings would considerably reduce the cost of coverage as now carried by individual boards, and except in the Doukhobor areas, the fire loss to be assumed would be relatively small, it was argued.

The delegation, which was headed by Mrs. A. T. Barnard, president of the association, also took up other resolutions passed at the recent provincial-wide convention of trustees, in the course of a two-hour interview with Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe. Mr. Hinchcliffe showed special interest in the insurance and Normal school representation, and promised consideration would be given to these and other matters spoken to by the delegation.

WOULD OUST COUNCILS

Request for enlargement of the teachers' salary committee, now being formed under Provincial auspices, to include nine school trustees, was also advanced. Mr. Hinchcliffe declined, however, to reconsider the allotment of places on the committee to council representatives. The Union of British Columbia Municipalities, he said, had already named their delegates, and city councils were entitled to representation on the committee in their capacity of tax gatherers in civic concerns.

The trustees advanced the names of their delegates on the committee, and these include R. H. Neelands, South Vancouver; Trustee Jones, of Nanaimo; and D. Chapman, of Kelowna.

Mayor Herbert Anscomb, of this city, and two other representatives of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities will sit on the committee for the council. In addition there will be three delegates apiece from business circles at large, and nine from the British Columbia Teachers' Federation. A member of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation will be named to act as chairman of the committee. Mr. Hinchcliffe has already indicated.

BRISK DEMAND FOR B.C. FOXES

California Buyers Seeking Cross Strains Bred in This Province

There is a brisk demand for British Columbia raised foxes in Southern California, and Northern Alaskan and Peace River strains, for cross breeding, are being purchased wherever obtainable, it was stated yesterday by the British Columbia buyer for R. J. Baisley, of San Diego, who was in the city in connection with the purchase of thirty additional pairs of foxes for shipment to the South. Mr. Baisley recently purchased twenty pairs of foxes from British Columbia breeders, and followed this with his latest order.

The inquiry was made through the Market Branch, Department of Agriculture, and led to the transfer of three pairs of animals yesterday, to be followed by twenty-seven additional pairs as soon as arrangements can be made for these purchases. The price was not stated, but is believed to range from $50 to $250, depending on the individual animal.

The foxes are required for cross breeding on Southern fur farms, the British Columbia foxes standing the transfer to California better than the product of Eastern pens. Animals taking part in the present deal, it was stated, are mostly those brought into British Columbia in 1929 from Alaska, and their progeny raised in this province. The Northern Alaskan and the Peace River foxes are both said to be types of crosses, suitable for breeding purposes in the South. A considerable demand can be built up for this trade, it was indicated.

WOULD END ALL WALKATHONS

Local Council of Women Seeks to Prohibit "Similar Amusements"

A motion to procure legislation prohibiting walkathons and "all similar amusements," was made during the meeting of the Local Council of Women yesterday afternoon. Mrs. McManus, convenor of the citizenship committee appointed to interview the Mayor with a view to closing the walkathons in local theatres, reported that the Mayor had stated that neither he nor the City Council had the power to stop this type of entertainment, as theatre leases could not be touched by the city. It was a matter for the Provincial Legislature.

Mrs. Walsh gave a satisfactory report of the unemployed women's workroom. About 150 women had registered to date, and it had been found necessary to divide them into two working groups operating on alternate days for five days during the week. She brought some examples of the work turned out by the needy women, these including neat children's clothes, made from old materials; a dress made from old beach pajamas, babies' caps, jerseys and other articles, made from wool; men's nightshirts, and various other useful garments. An appeal was made for clean second-hand clothing, to be made over, and for money donations. Between $50 and $60 a day was needed for the work. Garments, when made, either because the property of the women making them, at small cost, or were sent to the various benevolent societies; or were placed on sale, the new garments on Wednesday mornings, the remakes on Saturdays, at the Y.W.C.A.

"We need a fund of between three and four thousand dollars," stated Mrs. Walsh.

Mrs. Gibson reported that the recent tea held by the local council in aid of the workroom fund, had resulted in the gratifying sum of $150.05.

PROVINCIAL COUNCIL
Mrs. W. Maclean read a report of the Provincial Council meeting which she attended in New Westminster recently. She stated that the British Columbia Products Bureau had extended, until February, the time for the reception of the slogan for British Columbia products. Concerning the Victoria Local Council resolution relative to newwrecks, she stated that this had been returned to the Victoria council for redrafting, some councils reporting that they could not understand it.

A resolution committee in the Victoria Local Council was formed, with the president, Miss E. Crease, as chairman.

TO ADDRESS COUNCIL

Miss Florence McGeorge, a visitor to Victoria, who was present, was asked to address the November meeting, her subject to be, "The Position of Women and Children in Three Continents." Miss McGeorge has practiced osteopathy in Melbourne, Australia; New Zealand (her native country); England, Scotland, Canada, The Riviera, Italy, and Switzerland.

Miss Lottie Bowron gave an interesting report of her recent trip to England, and spoke of some of the women's organizations of whose work she had seen something. These included the liaison committee, of requested to attend.

Quality-Built Chesterfields by Weiler's

It is significant that price is never the paraded feature at Weiler's. That is because price alone means nothing, but quality of construction and beauty of finish when combined with reasonable price mean a great deal. The Confederation Life Association has played a leading part in the development of Non-Medical Life Insurance and Low-Premium Life Insurance, and in perfecting the Total Disability Benefit and Double Indemnity Accident Benefit. It has rendered pioneer service in the establishment of a comprehensive plan of Group Protection, by which provision is made for practically every contingency in the lives of workers, including the guarantee of an income when disabled by sickness or accident; the guarantee of adequate retirement allowances in old age, and the continuance of the employee's wages to the family for a definite period after his death. Under this plan the employer may assist his workers to alleviate and overcome four of the great hazards that confront them . . . the hazards of death, sickness, accident and old age. Thus the Confederation Life Association maintains its reputation for offering policy plans and benefits that are widely diversified, and some form of which may be adapted to meet every life insurance need and ambition.

CHILDREN BURNED BY SPRAYING TAR

Several boys were badly burned by a spray of scalding hot tar at a fire in the Provincial Government work yard Saturday. It was announced yesterday by Esquimalt police.

Those suffering burns were Chilford Knowles, age nine; Arthur Knowles, age seven, and Thomas Hamilton, age ten. The Hamilton boy was taken to the Jubilee Hospital for treatment, but his condition is not serious, it was reported. Several barrels of tar caught fire and when the flames were extinguished the bung was removed from one of the casks and tar sprayed over the boys who were standing nearby.

Substandard Children

Preliminary steps were taken in the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon by which it is hoped to co-ordinate the work of dealing with the problem which is represented in physically and mentally substandard children in the province. At a conference called by Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer, at which there were representative members of various organizations associated with this class of work, it was decided to create a "central council for the care of the substandard child in British Columbia."

General agreement with the plan was expressed, and a preliminary council of twelve was named to enter upon the work. This committee will include as ex-officio members the Commissioner of the Red Cross Society and the Inspector of Neglected Children. There were named Sir Richard Lake as the representative of the Red Cross; Dr. R. Pulton, of the Children's Aid Society of Victoria; Miss Collins, of the Children's Aid Society of Vancouver; Dr. C. Wace, of Queen Alexandra Hospital; Captain C. F. L. Money, of the Army and Navy Veterans; Miss Breeze, of the Graduate Nurses' Association; Mrs. Schell, of St. Joseph's Hospital; Dr. E. M. Pearce, of Royal Jubilee Hospital; Mrs. P. E. Corby, of the I.O.D.E. and Mrs. J. L. Grimason, of the Protestant Orphans' Home. Representatives will also be named by the Social Service Club of Vancouver, General Hospital and by the Marpole Children's Hospital.

READY TO AID
It was pointed out at the meeting, by Dr. Young, that there was far more spent in the curing of disease at the present time than would be needed if the facilities existed for the taking care of the persons afected when disease could be prevented. There were numerous organizations in existence which had for their objects the rendering of assistance to the youth of the province. This showed that there was a real desire to be of service. The feeling existed, however, that by some sort of co-operation it would be possible to do much more effectively, he said, was behind the move.

The idea, it was explained, was not to interfere with the regularly constituted organizations that were at work. The council which it was proposed to appoint should act in an advisory way.

Dr. Young expressed the hope that the Junior Red Cross organization would undertake the executive work connected with the organization about to be formed.

LEADS SUPPORT
Sir Richard Lake, representing the Junior Red Cross, said that he felt the idea was a good one calculated to prevent overlapping. As far as he was concerned he was ready to recommend the taking of the executive work over by the Junior Red Cross. The matter would, however, have to come before the general body. There would be a meeting about the end of the month, and the matter would then be disposed of. Approval of the plan was expressed by the various delegates present, including William Manson, superintendent of welfare, and the deputy provincial secretary, P. de N. Walker.

The council will be authorized to prepare a list of all physically and mentally substandard children in the province, and to act in an advisory capacity in dealing with these. It is the intention to make use of children's aid societies of all kinds, but also there will be enlisted the assistance of service clubs and all other agencies and persons who may be of service in the work in hand.

DEATH REMOVES NORTH PIONEER

H. E. Weller, Chief Engineer at Fort Severn, Passes Suddenly at Churchill

Death through a stroke at 1:30 a.m. yesterday removed a well-known figure at Manitoba's new port, Churchill, in the passing of H. E. Weller, for long identified with the Hudson's Bay Company, latterly as chief engineer of Fort Severn. His widow, Mrs. Rose Weller, resides in this city. One sister is resident in England.

Mr. Weller had seen a long period of service with the company, chiefly in Hudson Bay and James Bay posts of the trading firm. He also made one trip on the Baymaud, Harold Amundsen's exploration ship, originally known as the Maud.

Mr. Weller was known to a wide circle of friends, many in this city, to whom news of his passing came as a shock. He was a valued member of the fur trading organization, and had long been identified with its work in northern outposts in Canada. The remains will be brought to Victoria for interment.

What Today Means

"LIBRA"
If October 20 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., and from 9:45 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger hours are from 7:45 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., and from 2:10 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The signs of October 20 denote an unlucky day for business operations and are especially unpropitious for anything that concerns officials and officialdom. An exciting time is promised for young people.

Attachments and engagements will be broken off, to be replaced almost immediately by new ones. Married folks will be wise to reject the "butting-in" efforts of relatives and friends.

Children born on this October 20 will be serious, intellectual, quick-witted and diligent. They will not be much on sports. Their preference will be for reading. They will achieve considerable critical ability. Their friends will be sincere, clean-minded and absolutely loyal to kith and kin.

You, if born on October 20, are quiet and reserved, and resent the interference of any outsider with your affairs. You do not ask advice, but are content to paddle your own canoe and abide by the consequences. You are never an alibi creator. You are rather resentful of those in power around you, as it is your belief that you should exercise this power yourself. This attitude serves as your incentive and feeds your ambition. You are not partial to giving advice, and rarely do so. You think that all men and women should be capable of managing their own affairs without the intervention of others.

Your nature is a very affectionate one, and you love to be loved. Herein lies your weakness, as a too-ready yielding to the call of affection may divert your thoughts from the object in life you pursue. Defeat in any of your plans is not accepted gracefully and leads to lack of self-confidence. It takes you a long time to recover lost ground. You are not resilient.

You, although stoutly denying it to others, are a believer in the mysterious and are superstitious. This, however, does not affect your "onward march," although it very frequently influences your actions.

HAS PLANS TO EXTEND TRADE

J. A. Griffith Explains How He Would Increase Travel to Victoria

J. A. Griffith, speaking before the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, favored the extension of the highway from Sproat Lake to Tofino and also the establishment of a ferry service for motorists between Patricia Bay and Vancouver. The latter, he felt, should be operated at a rate below that at present charged for motor transportation from Victoria to Vancouver. If such were provided he felt there would be a large traffic developed.

In the matter of the extension of the road to Tofino, Mr. Griffith approved the plan to have a representative meeting from all parts of Vancouver Island to discuss matters of importance to this part of the province. The business with the enterprises on the West Coast of the Island was not coming to Victoria. The construction of a road to connect up with Tofino would make this possible. He had been informed that, if a road were constructed to Kennedy Lake, there was every reason to expect the C.P.R. to extend its line to that point.

FARMERS WOULD BENEFIT

With regard to the ferry service from Patricia Bay, he felt that Saanich farmers would by this means be afforded the opportunity of taking their fruit and produce to the Vancouver market.

James Parfitt said that the chamber had gone on record as favoring the Sproat Lake-Tofino road.

George I. Warren pointed out that the matter of the cheaper rates with the Mainland by ferry had been taken up with the C.P.R. There had been some reductions made, and it was promised that, as soon as the returns justified reductions, these would be made.

After some general discussion the matter was allowed to stand over.

Want Road Widened—The Malahat Board of Trade seeks to have widened the road which leaves the Malahat Drive at the Shawinigan Lake cut-off, and proceeds to Shawinigan Lake and thence back to the Island Highway near Cobble Hill. CAFEMEN AND BEAVERS WIN

Green Mill Scores 41-27
Victory Over Navy in Senior "C" Hoop Game

NAVY'S SECOND TEAM LOSES 47-14 VERDICT

With four of their regulars finishing on the sidelines, due to personal fouls against them, Navy's senior "C" quintette opened their schedule in the Victoria and District Basketball League last night at the Centennial gymnasium by dropping a 41-27 verdict to the Green Mill. In the initial clash, Beavers scored a 47-14 win over the Navy in an intermediate "A" fixture.

Featured by brilliant shooting by Billy Hill, elongated centre, Green Mill jumped into the lead early in the first canto and never relinquished it. Hill was in rare form in this period, caving seven baskets and one free throw for a total of 15 points, and the catmen left the floor at the interval holding a 28-8 margin.

The last stanza was rough, and Robinson, Barker, Freeman and McCuaig of the Navy were forced from play after receiving four personal fouls. Due to this the Navy finished the game with three players. Hill, of the Green Mill, was also on the bench before the game finished.

Teams:
Green Mill—Smith (5), Jones (3), Baker (8), Williams (6), Hill (15), Pettigrew (4), Woods.

Navy—Barker (4), McDonald (13), Gervais (1), Robinson (1), Freeman (2), McCuaig (6), Putman.

EASY VICTORY

Forty-one points between Fraser, Moore and Preston, their trio of sharpshooters, summarizes the story of the Beavers' victory over the Navy. Fraser had his eye in and totaled 17 points, while Moore and Preston caged twelve each. The score at halftime was 32-6. Alan Le Marquand handled the games.

Teams follow:
Beavers—Dixon (2), Moore (12), Fraser (17), Preston (12), MacDonald, Tubman (1), Levy (3).

Navy—Sweet (10), Patterson, Kichick (4), Christie, Smith (2), Sewell (1), Robertson, Kennedy.

FOOTBALL FANS TRY TO GET AWAY WITH ROYAL ARMS EMBLEM

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (CP).—Placed on the vice-regal box at Lansdowne Park Saturday, the royal arms, weighing some fifty pounds, were sought after by a unique souvenir by some jubilant Hamilton Tiger fans following the victory over Ottawa Rough Riders.

The heraldic bearings would have been in Hamilton today but for the watchful eyes of workmen at the football field, who notified police, who soon traced the ardent souvenir hunters and recovered the arms in an automobile parked on a downtown street a short time after the game.

The fifty-pound insignia was soon returned to its permanent home at the Coliseum, and the "hunters" warned against future desires for royal arms.

SASKATOON, Oct. 19.—Mr. Justice G. E. Taylor, of the Saskatchewan Court of King's Bench, handed down judgment in a slander action today which ruled that a husband was not liable for his wife's actions in respect to such cases.

The Little Helpers of St. Andrew's and Holy Trinity Branch of the Women's Auxiliary and Sunday schools, met at the home of Mrs. Philip Brethour, Oakland Avenue, on Saturday afternoon. This was the first annual gathering in this parish of this baby branch of the W.A., and proved a great success both in an instructive and social way. Lady Lake, of Victoria, was the guest of honor. During the afternoon she told of the Little Helpers special accomplishments in the work of the church, and delighted both the mothers and children present. Later, the children emptied their missionary boxes in a large bowl in charge of Miss C.

Belson, and were happy to learn that $5.99 had been saved in pennies. Lady Lake presented each child with an illustrated missionary card. Refreshments had been provided by the members of the evening branch of the W.A., and were served by the following members: Mrs. G. E. Pew, Miss E. Gwynne, Miss C. Belson, Miss M. Bowden, Miss A. Toomer and Miss M. Cochran. There were thirty-four children and mothers present and a greater membership is hoped for in the coming year.

When loose dandruff gets the upper hand, hair begins to fall out. Baldness often follows.

A quick, pleasant treatment for a dandruff condition is full strength Listerine, used systematically several days. You simply douse it on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously, using a little castor or olive oil when scalp or hair is excessively dry. Keep this treatment up for several days. You will be amazed at the quick improvement.

If infection is present on the surface of the skin, Listerine attacks it. A powerful germicide, it kills bacteria in 15 seconds, the fastest killing time accurately recorded by science.

Listerine helps to dissolve oily crusts and quickly removes them, as well as horny scales. And Listerine quickly relieves that burning, itching sensation. It soothes inflamed or irritated areas of the scalp.

If scalp is excessively dry, a little olive oil may be used in connection with the Listerine shampoo, or independent of it. The oil aids in dissolving crusts and scales and keeps hair from drying out.

The Twitchtails Have an Adventure

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Adventure doth as sure as fate
Around the corner lie in wait
—Old Mother Nature.

One never knows when one may meet with adventure. Sometimes we seek it, but more often it comes suddenly at the most unexpected times and in the most unexpected places. So it is that watchfulness is necessary at all times, even when there seems no need for it.

Twitchtail and Mrs. Twitchtail left their old home on the edge of the wheatfield to seek a new home where there would be nothing to remind them of the dreadful thing that had happened to their friends and neighbors, and where those two-legged creatures called men would not be likely to try to do them harm. Mrs. Twitchtail led the way and Twitchtail meekly followed. They turned their backs on the wheatfield, the orchard, and the wooded hillside they had known all their lives.

Twitchtail grumbled from time to time, but Mrs. Twitchtail paid no attention to him and he followed on, for he had no intention of losing her as well as his home. That first night they spent in a pile of rocks where they felt quite safe. Early the next morning Mrs. Twitchtail started on again, stopping only long enough to get breakfast along the way. Of course, Twitchtail followed. He didn't like that journey. He didn't think it necessary to go so far. But he did know that once Mrs. Twitchtail had made up her mind there was no use in trying to change it. In other words, Mrs. Twitchtail would have her way and he might as well yield first as last.

"Haven't we gone far enough, my dear?" he would ask plaintively.

To this Mrs. Twitchtail would make no reply. She would merely give her big tail a jerk. Twitchtail understood exactly what it meant. Thereafter he would meekly follow for a while without saying a word. He knew by the very appearance of Mrs. Twitchtail's back that it was of no use to argue or protest. After a while they came to a try that was wholly new to them. They didn't travel so fast then, for Mrs. Twitchtail was watching for a good place for a new home. Several times she spent much time looking places over, but none suited her. This one was too exposed. That one was too far from a food supply. Another had no outlook. And so it went. One place seemed perfect to Twitchtail, but Mrs. Twitchtail promptly said it wouldn't do at all.

"There are no neighbors of our own kind, and I won't live without good neighbors," she declared.

"There is something wrong with this place or there would be squirrels living there."

"I suppose you are right," replied Twitchtail, "though it looks all right to me. Aren't you borrowing trouble, my dear. People without a home shouldn't be too fussy."

It was shortly after this that they came to something new and strange to them. It was a broad, smooth highway, a motor road, the first they ever had seen. They paused on the edge of it. They looked up and down it and didn't know at all what to make of this long open space that seemed to be of rock, yet was smoother than any rock they ever had seen. There was something strange about it that awakened fear. They were afraid to cross. Two or three times Mrs. Twitchtail started out and then hurriedly turned back.

At last she grew bolder. "Come on!" she cried. "I'm going to cross."

Twitchtail hesitated, which was just as well for him. Mrs. Twitchtail was half way across, her eyes fixed on the other side, looking neither to left nor right, when Twitchtail saw a terrible monster rushing down upon her. Before he could even cry a warning she disappeared under it. Of course, you know what it was. It was an automobile.

Cathedral Is Scene of Ceremony

The marriage of Gertrude Charlotte, daughter of Mrs. William Stewart, 16 Lewis Street, and Mr. Walter Redvers Ayton, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ayton, of 1448 Denman Street, was solemnized in Christ Church Cathedral last night, at 8 o'clock, Rev. W. P. Carter officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. J. A. Stewart, looked lovely in her gown of white crepe de Chine made in simple lines which fell in soft folds to her ankles, and it had a yoke of Charilly lace which formed short cape sleeves over the shoulders. Her veil of embroidered silk net was arranged with a Russian coronet of orange blossoms, and her only ornament was a necklace with pendant of small pearls in the form of a true lover's knot. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, carnations and white heather.

THREE ATTENDANTS
There were three attendants. Mrs. W. E. Calder was matron of honor in a frock of powder blue georgette with panels of silk lace in matching shade falling to the hemline, and a short coat with elbow sleeves. She wore a hat of pale pink silk mohair trimmed with ribbon streamers to match her dress, and carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. Miss Lillian Marten was the bridesmaid in a powder blue flowered flat crepe frock with coat to match, with which she wore a picture hat of blue silk mohair with ribbon streamers, and carried a bouquet of pale pink chrysanthemums. Little Joan Stewart, niece of the bride, was a dainty flower girl in pale pink georgette, who held a basket of carnations and Columbia roses. Mr. W. E. Calder supported the groom.

RECEPTION HELD
After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where the bride and groom received the felicitations of their numerous friends standing beneath an arch of pink and yellow chrysanthemums and carnations, from which was suspended a large white wedding bell. They were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Stewart in a gown of ecru lace and a black felt hat with an ostrich feather mount, and by Mrs. Ayton, Senior, in a gown of blue georgette embroidered in pink with coat en suite, and a hat of navy blue felt. They both wore corsages of Columbia roses and violets. The reception rooms were beautifully arranged with chrysanthemums and dahlias in shades of pink and yellow, and the supper table, centred with the three-tier bride cake, was decorated with silver vases of pale pink carnations and lighted with tall pink tapers in silver holders. Mr. and Mrs. Ayton left at midnight for a wedding trip to Vancouver and Seattle, the bride traveling in a dress of coral pink flat crepe with cream trimmings and a coat of grey caracul with squirrel collar and cuffs, and a grey felt hat with a coral mount. On their return they will make their home in Lee Oaks Apartments. Among the many beautiful gifts received was a cheque from Mr. and Mrs. Terry and Miss Terry, a silver case for Mr. Goldwyn Terry, and a silver tea service and china tea set from the staff of Terry's drug store, of which the groom is a member and the bride a former employee.

She can choose between Pears—

but does she know the difference between coffees?

THE BARTLETT PEAR, large, fine-grained, sweet and juicy... The Kieffer, also large, moderately sweet, particularly fine for canning. Of course, every housewife knows these!

But where is the housewife, no matter how clever, who really knows much about coffee?

"Hard" coffee... "soft" coffee... "mild" coffee. To you they look just alike. But to the man who knows all about coffee they are as different as night and day. He has only to look at a coffee bean to tell you which kind it is.

Chase & Sanborn experts select only the highest grades of soft and mild coffee, blending and roasting them skillfully to suit the Canadian taste.

For 50 years Chase & Sanborn's has been roasted and packed right here in Canada... And during those 50 years it has been Canada's leading coffee.

Of course, we pack this superb coffee in vacuum tins to keep it fresh until it reaches you... In 1 lb. and 1/2 lb. tins. It goes to your grocer by the same delivery system that brings him fresh Fleischmann's Yeast twice each week.

ACTION ABOUNDS IN CAPITOL FILM

Dramatic War Story, Entitled "Waterloo Bridge" Will Show All Week at Local Theatre

Absolute precision of detail has predominated in the production of "Waterloo Bridge," now showing at the Capitol Theatre. James Whale "sent back" a two-decker English bus three times because details of reproduction were slightly in error. The bus, which appears for a split-second in "Waterloo Bridge" at the Capitol Theatre, at first had the wrong sort of brandy advertising on its side, and next, spelled out the words, "Chu Chin Chow" in type letters that the director claimed were not used. A motorman's cap sent the bus and its crew back to the art department the third time—negligible details to the average person, but huge matters to Hollywood's champion of realism, James Whale.

wood's champion of realism, James Whale. Mac Clarke and Kent Douglas are the featured players of the picture.

PLAYHOUSE Last night's performance of "She Couldn't Say No," at the Playhouse Theatre, was a distinct triumph for Miss Mary May, the talented leading lady of the G. Donald Gray Company. After having seen her in such dignified roles as Kathleen O'Donnell in the opening play, it was a revelation to the audience to see her romp through the hilarious comedy part of Alice Hindsdale. Mr. Gray, in the part of Walter Turnbull, amply justified his statement that he is desirous of making every member of his company popular as he plays the part with the wholehearted object of supporting his leading lady.

DOMINION They sold real estate by hook or crook in "The Cocoanuts." They were big game hunters on a Long Island in "Animal Crackers." And now in "Monkey Business," their latest mad comedy, now showing at the Dominion Theatre, the wild and woolly Marx Brothers, Groucho, Harpo, Chico and Zeppo, are showaways on a giant ocean liner, taking over command of the ship and becoming involved with beautiful ladies and desperate gangsters.

COLUMBIA The continuous battle which dwellers in towns on the Mississippi River make against the inroads of its mighty waters is seen in Columbia Pictures' latest feature, "The Flood," now showing at the Columbia Theatre. Graphic scenes of the breaking of levees show what happens when man temporarily loses this battle.

COLISEUM The film version of THEATRE "White Cargo" is now showing at the Coliseum Theatre. This all-talking picture has been heralded as one of the most popular English plays seen here for a long time. The producers of the picture have been wise in changing none of the features which made the stage play such an outstanding sensation—story, dialogue, characters and situations are presented exactly as they were in the play.

MERALOMAS GRIDDERS TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Representative Soccer Team to Oppose Royals Here Is Selected

Strong Squad to Oppose Dominion Champs on Oct. 31

Lower Island Football Association Names Team to Play Powerful New Westminster Pacific Coast League Entry in Exhibition at Royal Athletic Park on Saturday Week

Charlie Lewis Will Manage Squad

Goal, Louis De Costa, Esquimalt. Right back, Joe Crowe, Saanich Thistles. Left back, Fred Gibbons, Saanich Thistles. Right half, Eddie Viggers, Saanich Thistles. Centre half, Bob Preston, Jokers. Left half, Jim Crowe, Saanich Thistles. Outside right, Harry Youson, Victoria West. Inside right, "Scotty" Stewart, Esquimalt. Centre, Barney Burns, Saanich Thistles. Inside left, Mike Wagland, Esquimalt. Outside left, Danny Glancy, Victoria City. Reserves—T. Bridges, Saanich Thistles; George Leggett, Jokers; Wes Harper, Saanich Thistles; T. Smith, Victoria City; A. Campbell, Jokers; C. Dorrington, Victoria City; Bob Stewart, Esquimalt. Manager, Charlie Lewis, Jokers.

Above is the "Rep" eleven which will bear the colors of the Capital City against the New Westminster Royals, Dominion champions, in the intercity exhibition football fixture to be staged at the Royal Athletic Park, Saturday afternoon, October 31, under the Lower Island Football Association. The squad was selected at a meeting of the board last night at the Y.M.C.A.

SEVERAL CHANGES
Soccer followers will notice that several changes have been made in the representative eleven, as compared with the squad which performed against the Kerrisdale Merchants on Thanksgiving Day. Four new players will make their appearance, two of them for the first time on a select team. Harry Youson, West, and Jim Crowe, Thistles, are the youngsters who will play before Victorians for the first time in such an important tussle.

As expected, Louis De Costa, brilliant goalie from the Esquimalt camp, will be between the sticks, with Joe Crowe, Thistles, and Freddy Gibbons, a teammate, at fullback positions. The intermediate rank will be Eddie Viggers, Thistles; Preston, Jokers, and Jim Crowe, Thistles. Youson will patrol right wing, flanked by "Scotty" Stewart, Esquimalt, and Barney Burns, Saanich Thistles, will be a centre position. The tricky Mike Wagland, Esquimalt, will play inside left and Danny Glancy, City, has been assigned to outside left.

STRONG ELEVEN
The team is one of the strongest ever selected by local officials in recent years and should make a good showing against the Canadian champions. The back division is formidable, while the front rank is fast and carry good drives.

Again Charlie Lewis, Jokers, was appointed manager. Lewis has guided several representative elevens against visitors in recent seasons and has established a fine record. It is hoped he will bring this squad through to victory over Westminster. McMillan will referee and W. Southern will act as trainer.

The joint meeting of the Victoria and District League and the Lower Island Association, held at the "Y," was mild and nothing sensational broke out. Close harmony held sway during the session.

Queen's Wins Intercollegiate Rugby Game

A STRONG, battling attack in the final quarter, which persisted in the face of several repulses, brought a last-minute victory to the tricolor of Queen's University, Kingston, at Varsity Stadium on Saturday, October 10, in the opening game of the intercollegiate season, and the points that gave the 1930 champions a 3 to 2 victory over Varsity were scored with but fifty-one seconds to play. Up until the last minute of the game the visitors had been held scoreless, while the Blue and White had scored two singles, one in the second on a touch in goal, and the other in the third on a rouse, both on kicks by Jack Sinclair. For three-quarters of the game the Blue looked much the better team, even if their margin in points was small, but in the final period Queen's came strong and battled through to victory. Here we see, top, a bunch of the Kingston visitors rally round to stop a Varsity end run. The lad with the ball is being brought down very definitely. Bottom, talk about moral support! Look at these fair co-eds routing for the old Alma Mater. In another minute they'll be out on the field, too.

DUNCAN SCOTTISH DEFEATED BY HIGH SCHOOL XV, 11 TO 8

DUNCAN, Oct. 18.—Duncan High School defeated a local team of Canadian Scottish in a well-played rugby match at the cricket grounds here, yesterday, by a score of 11-8. The Scottish had a decided advantage in weight, but the school made up in speed what they lacked in bulk. In the first half the High School boys held their opponents scoreless while they tallied six points on two penalty goals, both of which were kicked by Eric Smythe. The second half had hardly opened when Ernie Mottishaw went over the line for the Scottish to score a try behind the posts after a fine run. Parker converted. Haines scored a try for the school shortly afterwards, and Olmstead added the extra points with a nice kick. The Scottish got three more points and the final score of the game a little later when Binky Tisdall kicked a penalty goal.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Finest Thing in the World—The optical glass produced in a Camden Town factory, London, England, has been called the most perfect in the world, by eminent physicists in the science of glass making, and the firm has acquired a monopoly of such things as "echelon" gratings and other optical apparatus requiring perfect optical surfaces. In order to test a surface for flatness, it is laid upon a "proof-plate" of the required flatness and viewed by the light of the mercury lamp. Any irregularity of shape is immediately revealed by irregularities in the "Newton's rings" formed between the plates. The final testing apparatus is called the "phenika," which again uses interference fringes for discovering irregularities of optical thickness. The instrument maps out the slab in contour lines, the steps being a quarter wave-length of light, or about a 200,000th of an inch. An expert operator can gauge unevenness within a ten-millionth of an inch. The finished glass plates are used to build up echelon gratings for spectroscopic purposes, and as flat mirrors in large Newtonian reflector telescopes and other optical apparatus requiring the formation of a perfect visual image. SAILORS WILL BATTLE BAYS

Navy to Meet Hudson's Bay XI Tomorrow—Garrison Faces Saanich United

The Wednesday Football League will resume its season's schedule tomorrow afternoon with two fixtures on the programme. Hudson's Bay eleven will battle the Navy at the Royal Athletic Park in the feature attraction at 2:30 o'clock, while Garrison will entertain Saanich United at Work Point Barracks at the same hour. Garrison's unexpected victory over the Navy, last year's champions, in the opening fixture of the season makes them slight favorites over the suburbanites. The Tommies played first-class football in their friendly rivalry, 2-1, and are expected to go better than ever on their home grounds.

The Bays-Navy clash at the enclosure should be a great tussle, as both teams are evenly matched and capable of displaying fine form. The departmentals opened their schedule in an impressive manner by scoring a 4-0 victory over Saanich United and will be out after their second straight win against the sailors.

STRONG VANCOUVER SQUAD WILL MEET VICTORIA RUGGERS

Second Canadian Rugby Game of Season Here Will Be Played at Royal Athletic Park Saturday Afternoon—Locals to Send Well-Drilled Team Against Mainlanders

Victory Will Keep Islanders In Second Place in Big Four

W.	L.	T.	P.	A.	Pct.
V.A.C.	5	8	74	17	1,000
Victoria	3	1	9	22	500
New Westminster	5	3	22	34	400
Meralomas	3	1	22	49	350
Varsity	4	1	18	30	350

With a victory needed to keep them in the fight for the championship, Manager Ernie Cook and Coach Doug Roberts will send their reorganized Victoria Canadian Rugby squad against the Meralomas, of Vancouver, Saturday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park in the Big Four League, confident of coming out of the battle on the right end of the score. The Capitals are in second place and a win will keep them right on the tail of the leading Vancouver Athletic Club team, which has not tasted defeat in five starts.

The locals opened the season with a mediocre start and dropped their first fixture to the Vacs by a 20-2 score, much to the disappointment of the large crowd of fans, who wended their way to the Royal Athletic Park. Things looked bad after that drubbing, but Manager Cook and his coach traveled to Vancouver two days after and took the New Westminster Dodekas into camp, 7-2, in a replayed fixture. It was a different team which battled the Royal City lads into the ground and that's the chief reason why the locals are confident of downing the Meralomas.

The Mainlanders are full of fight, as was shown in their match against the Vacs, Saturday, when they dropped an 8-7 decision after a grueling tussle, which ended in a near riot over a disputed touch-down. R. Ellis and Don Stewart were ordered off the field by Referee Del Finlay as a result of the argument. Meralomas have practiced the same line-up which carried them through to the Big Four crown last season, so Victoria will not take any chances and go right out there and give all they have from the opening whistle.

VISITORS STRONG

Meralomas will arrive at the scene of battle twenty-eight strong. The following are expected to be in Vancouver uniforms: Orange, Sutherland, Howard, Hammond, Garvin, Williams, Morine, Potter, Lawrence, Oak-erfall, Cooper, Mackie, Elliott, McCullum, Lowe, Gernsey, Carnochan, McLeod, L. Stewart, D. Stewart, Cameron, R. Ellis, Wilson, McAdam, Hunt, Dalby, Rolins and B. Ellis.

Injuries have crept into Victoria's camp since their last fixture. Harry Robson was first to join the invalids when he received a broken finger during the V.A.C. game. He will be out for the season. Horace Goad met with injuries in an auto accident the day after the Mainland game, while Jack Horne is still nursing bruises, but is expected to be ready for the Meralomas clash. Whether or not Goad will be ready for action is not yet known. Outside of these gridders, the team will practically be the same. The following will be on deck: Cox, R. Engelson, Pettigrew, De Rivecourt, C. Forb., McCallister, Engelson, H. Forbes, G. Warnock, Lynn Patrick, McMillen, Bellis (captain), Lemm, Hunnington, Usher, Dowell, Gribble, Hall, Murray, Patrick and D'Arcy.

Turns in Thirty-Six Net Total of 124 to Win Trophy at Uplands

BOB MORRISON HAS LOW GROSS

With the aid of his 48 handicap, James Randall captured the Uplands Cup on Sunday at the Uplands Golf Club by finishing the thirty-six holes medal play with a net total of 124, two strokes in front of Don McDiarmid. The new cupholder held a one-stroke lead at the end of the first round and played his usual game in the second round to walk off with the coveted silverware. His thirty-six-hole card was 172-46-124. McDiarmid totaled 172-46-126, while Bert Challoner took third place with 148-18-131. In fourth place came Bill Pomeroy with 153-18-135, while A. G. Mackie, E. J. Diespecker, F. C. Holden, R. A. Semple, R. Morrison and R. Cran were bracketed in fifth position with net cards of 136.

Bob Morrison, club and city champion, ran away with the low gross honors by combining two cards of 68 and 74 for a fine total of 142. His first round of 68 equalled his own amateur course record.

ROUGHRIDERS ON TOP AGAIN

Regina Gridders Overwhelm Moose Jaw to Practically Clinch Saskatchewan Title

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19 (CP).—First of the prairies' perennial Rugby champions to fall down a 1931 title is Calgary Altamah-Tigers, the slightly revised edition of the old Tiger brigade, which represented Alberta in the Western playdowns the last three years. The Calgarys clinched the Alberta title Saturday by defeating Edmonton Eskimos, 14 to 7. In due course they probably will be bracketed with Regina Roughriders and Winnipeg St. John's. Then the stage will be set for another interprovincial battle of Rugby giants—a battle from which Roughriders have emerged victorious five times in succession.

The Riders drew closer to another Saskatchewan championship Saturday, overwhelming Moose Jaw Maroons with the mighty force of their ground drive. The score was 22 to 0. While St. John's were idle on the Saturday front, their chief rivals, Winnipeg, scored an upset win over University of Manitoba, 10 to 2.

Winnipeg's title chances, however, are slim. They must down St. John's in the two remaining games on their schedule and whip the Varsity squad again. The Saints are unbeaten this season.

NANAIMO LAWN BOWLING

NANAIMO, Oct. 18.—The annual meeting of the Lawn Bowling Club was held in the clubhouse last evening. In the absence of President R. C. Barrie, Vice-President Joe Sagen presided. The balance sheet showed the finances of the club to be in good shape. Among the business discussed was the annual banquet and presentation of prizes, it being decided to hold it on October 24 in St. John Hall. The banquet will be held at 6:30, to be followed by a dance.

Tommy Loughran Wins Call Over Risko With Ease

Philadelphia Jabs Way to Ten-Round Decision to Chalk Up His Eleventh Straight Victory—Left to Face and Body Worries Risko

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19 (AP).—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia heavyweight, jabbed his way to a ten-round decision over Johnny Risko, Cleveland rubber man, in the main go of the Arena card tonight. Risko outweighed him 13 1/2 pounds.

Loughran stepped away to a lead in the first round, and continued to jab his left into Risko's face and body until the final gong. The Philadelphia sent his opponent's head back sharply in nearly every round, but Risko came back for more, staying rights and lefts to the body. Both battlers were striving to keep clean a string of victories, Loughran gaining his eleventh straight, while Risko previously had decisions over his last five opponents.

Despite an injured left hand, the Philadelphia "downtown Adonis" kept Risko from connecting with many head blows, while he hooked repeatedly to the tip of the jaw. Risko sought for in-fighting while Loughran insisted on long range work and ruled most of the way.

Canoneri Signed For Title Go With Chocolate Nov. 20

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP).—Jimmy Johnston signalled his debut as director of Madison Square Garden's boxing affairs today by closing negotiations for a fifteen-round match between Tony Canoneri and Kid Chocolate for November 20, for the world lightweight championship, now held by Canoneri.

The match, considered for some time as a "natural," brings together two of the most popular fighters in the game. The lightweight crown will be the chief prize at stake but three titles will be taken into the ring. Besides being the lightweight champion, Canoneri also holds the synthetic junior welterweight title. Chocolate is the junior lightweight titleholder, having won the crown from Benny Bass in July. Since knocking Singer out in the first round of their championship fight last November, Canoneri has met and successfully defended his title twice against Jackie (Kid) Berg. He may attempt to make 130 pounds in his fight with Chocolate, so that all three titles will be at stake.

CADDIES WILL HOLD TOURNEY

Bag-Toters at Oak Bay Links to Stage Twisted Event on Saturday

Saturday will be a red letter day in the lives of the large contingent of caddies at the Victoria Golf Club. Bright and early in the morning a large field will face starter Phil Taylor in the annual eighteen-hole scramble for the Milbank Cup, symbolic of the championship. The tourney will be played under full handicap, which will be arranged by the club professional, who is in charge of the meet.

The winner will take possession of the handsome trophy for the next twelve months and also a miniature, which he will retain. Several other prizes will be up for competition. The cup was donated several years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Milbank, of New York.

Caddies, who have not already entered, are asked to communicate with Phil Taylor as soon as possible, as the officials wish to make the draw. Women members wishing to assist by scoring are requested to file their names with Taylor, or phone G.arden 7414. The draw will be made on Thursday, G. Bridges won the event last year with a net 72.

JIMMY SLATTERY TO TAKE ON LEVINSKY AT DETROIT FRIDAY

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP).—King Levinsky, Chicago heavyweight, and Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, former light-heavyweight titleholder, have been matched for a ten-round bout at Detroit's Olympia Arena, October 23. The bout will replace the contemplated Jackie Fields-Young match.

Three Games Will Usher In Season in East on November 12—Hawks to Meet Maple Leafs—Minor Changes in Playing Code Made

TORONTO, Oct. 19 (CP).—Clarification of a number of rules and various minor changes occurred much of the time of directors of the National Hockey League meeting here today. The playing schedule for the coming season was also adopted.

Application for reinstatement of three players who were with American Hockey League clubs last season were turned down. A motion dealing with players who joined outlaw organizations was passed as follows:

"That players now under contract or option to clubs in organized hockey who play in any outlaw organization will be permanently debared from organized hockey."

No change was made in the system of play-offs followed last spring. The first-place club in each of the two groups will play off for the league championship, while the clubs finishing second and third in each group will play off to determine which will challenge the league champions for the Stanley Cup.

Opening schedule dates were announced as follows:

November 12, Chicago Black Hawks, at Toronto, Maple Leafs; New York Rangers, at Canadiens; New York Americans, at Detroit.

November 14, Boston Bruins and Montreal Maroons, November 15, New York Americans, at Chicago, Black Hawks, November 17, Detroit, at New York, Rangers.

An incident in the final game in Boston last season, between Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs, was responsible for a change in the rule regarding penalty face-offs in front of the goal. At the time, Clancy, of Toronto, was out of position and one official blew his whistle just as the face-off occurred. Boston scored, but the goal was disallowed. The amended rule states that if a player on the defending side is out of position on a penalty face-off and a goal is scored, it will count.

Doctor Dick's Letter Box

TIM MATSON

Dear Doctor.

I've been house-cleaning for eight weeks. I've practically lived on cobwebs and "daddy-long-legs," and as I'm rather tired I'm five-eighths of a mind whether to bother with the attic or not. What do you admonish?

Yours, pinging a fat blue bottle,

MRS. ETTA BROOME.

Dear Mrs. Broome,

Do anything you like—but keep out of that attic! The horrors, shocks and labors of attic cleaning have rendered many a buxom housewife down to a bitter, terrified, incoherent scream!

To begin with, all attic seem to be made entirely of laths and invisible rafters, so what with knocking oneself unconscious and floundering among lath work, like a bulldog chesting his way through sheet ice, very little time can be devoted to the actual work.

But the above are only physical inconveniences, which can be good-naturedly "pooh poohed." It is the mental attitude of an attic that really undermines the nervous system and finally brings on "Attic Mania."

For instance, after sprawling over it, curiosity or rage urges one to pry open a bag, mysterious looking trunk. Inquisitive fingers are spasmodically withdrawn out to ribbons by a pot of Aunt Hetty's apricot preserves that had been itching to explode for the past forty years.

The next shock clarifies the unsuspected presence of a dozen demented tomcats when the supporting trunk edges suddenly cave one's face is finally intercepted in its dash through space by the mystic keyboard of Uncle Ephraim's accordion—sinuous evidence of the social debauchery of the depraved "nineties!"

Horror is emerging. As it develops one realizes with relief that at least it is something noncommittal. A bust of watermelonish pomp-tapers deceivably to a mere throw of a waist, only to swell alarmingly into a veritable plaster of Paris amphitheatre which one recognizes with a shriek of shame and horror as the truth about Granny's hips!

(And meanwhile, Mrs. Broome, rats are squeaking, mice are scuttling, bats are whirling, rafters are creaking, and family skeletons are beating an ossified tattoo on a hundred dust-caked, worm-eaten, cryptic-looking doors! Brrrr! Keep out of the attic.)

Yours peeking over the sheets,

D.D.

Hockey Body Makes Drastic Ruling to Curb Player Moves

Amateurs Desiring to Move From One Province to Another Must Drop Active Competition for Year—Must Be at New Home by Jan. 1

MONTREAL, Oct. 19 (CP).—After practically a whole week of discussion, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association yesterday amended the controversial residence rule.

In future, an amateur desiring to move from one province to another will have to drop active competition for one year to make the change. He will have to be resident in his new home on January 1 in order to be eligible to lace skates in the following Autumn. Before the date for moving to the new scene of operations was May 15. The change does not affect the season which is about to open, but will apply to the season of 1932-33, and any player who wishes to move from their present province for that season will have to be in residence in the new city before January 1 next.

The association yesterday provisionally sanctioned a branch-to-branch transfers. Provided the players' application complies with the rules, and is approved by the clubs and branches, all documentary evidence is in order and the application is accompanied by a sworn affidavit, then the transfers will be permitted.

The transfers for the coming season were all provisionally accepted except two, Hanrahan, of Halifax, and Aule, of Bathurst, failing to secure approval of the association as they had not complied with the residence rules.

WEST HARD HIT
WINNIPEG, Oct. 19 (CP).—Western Canada is the loser in the amateur hockey shuffle of 1931 on the basis of provisional transfers granted at the week-end gathering of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association at Montreal. A dozen stick-handlers, it is indicated, have forsaken the West for Eastern competition, and only four Easterners are noted as trekking to the Prairies.

Cream of the Western migration is skinned by Moncton, N.B., whence seven classy players—five of them from Winnipeg—have wended their way. Little "Duke" McDonald, centre-ice ace of the Canadian junior champions, Winnipeg Maroons, leads the Maritime invasion.

Head of Seattle Club Decides to Dispose of Team When Vancouver Man Fails to Step Out as President of Coast League

SEATTLE, Oct. 19 (AP).—For sale—all players of the Seattle Hockey Club of the Pacific Coast League. Lloyd Turner, manager of the team, announced today that he would sell all the Seattle Eskimos will be sold in whole or in part to the big leagues, it is said.

Turner said that Captain "Red" Stuart, and Dave veteran Jack Walker, forwards, will seek jobs as managers in minor Canadian circuits. The other players are to be sold with Gordon Savage and Johnny Houbregs, defence stars, and Dave Kemp, goalie, likely to go to the big leagues, it is said.

AMHERST, N.S., Oct. 19.—"Red" Stuart, former National Hockey League star, expects to return to his old position with the Seattle team this winter. While it was understood that he was not anxious to continue in the ranks and favored a business career, he turned down an offer to coach the Amherst Ramblers, in his home town.

FINANCE - COMMERCE - MARKETS

Slight Advance
Is Recorded at
New York Mart

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP).—With the exception of bonds, financial markets returned a balance of gains today.

Stocks refused to be frightened by early heaviness of the rails and advanced slowly with copper showing the way. Net gains were largely fractional, and trading was dull.

Many stocks moved in a one-point range. Coppers profited by somewhat better buying of foreign consumers and the prospective international production conference. Gains of a point or more in the group were numerous. Chemicals also advanced.

Most rails reduced their losses, some canceling them. Union Pacific lost 2 net.

Such prominent industrials as U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Electric, General Motors, National Electric and Case averaged a half point higher at the close. North American gained more than a point. Sales of $50,797 shares were the smallest since September 1.

Sterling rallied strongly, touching $2.91 1/2 and closing at $2.90 3/4 for a net gain of 1 3/4 cents. Most other foreign rates were steady to firm. The Japanese yen improved, but lost two-thirds of its rise. The bond market declined irregularly today, and trading dropped to a turnover of $12,751,000, the lowest for a full session for a month.

Japanese Government 4 1/2's of 1954 were one of the most active and depressed issues. Their closing price, 90 5/8, represented a net loss of 7 1/8 points.

DUNCAN PASTOR IS LAID TO REST

Many Attend Funeral of Rev. F. G. Christmas—Was Widely Known

The last impressive rites of the church were held over the body of Rev. Frederick Granville Christmas, B.A., vicar emeritus of Duncan, on Thursday afternoon in the presence of a large congregation. So great was the number of mourners that they were unable to gain admission into the church of St. John Baptist, where the first part of the burial service was conducted by the vicar, Rev. Arthur Bischoffberger. The body was brought into the church at 2 o'clock, and vigil was kept by Messrs. T. Reeves, E. G. Sanford, H. J. Greig and E. W. Carr-Hilton, until the service began half an hour later. The lesson was read by Ven. Archdeacon E. P. Laycock, who represented the Bishop of Columbia. Other clergy present were the Ven. Archdeacon H. A. Collicott, Canon F. A. P. Chadwick and H. V. Hitchcock.

BETTY YOUNG IS POULTRY WINNER

High Points Obtained in Class for Students—Other Special Prizes Awarded

SAANICHTON, Oct. 20.—One of the interesting new classes included in the poultry section of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society's Annual Fall Fair, was the poultry entered by students of the South Saanich High School agricultural class, which has been under the supervision of Miss M. A. Allen. Mr. Straight, of the Vancouver Island Experimental Station, has taken a keen interest in this work, and in order to encourage it, every year, arranged for settings of eggs to be donated to each pupil, and also provided the first prize. The second prize was donated by Miss Allen.

Each student exhibited a cockerel and pullet, and in addition to the showing of the birds, each student had to make a report of the success of the incubation (natural incubation), of rearing to time of pair, report as to rest of the setting and record of sales made.

There was keen competition, and Rev. C. MacDiarmid, the judge, commented favorably on the showing. The results were as follows: 1st, Betty Young, total points obtained, 89.3; 2nd, Alvarita McTut, total points obtained, 86; 3rd, Barbara Cummings, total points obtained, 85.5.

REPORT MADE TO LEGION BRANCH

Work of Dominion Convention Explained—Make Arrangements for Remembrance Meeting

SAANICHTON, Oct. 19.—Comrade S. A. Barnard, of the Canadian Legion, was enthusiastically received at a largely attended meeting of the North Saanich branch, held in the Orange Hall, Saanichton.

Comrade Barnard, in his address, covered the work of the Dominion Convention, dealing particularly with the operation of the recently appointed pension tribunals and unemployment, also describing a visit he had made in disguise to the "jungles" of various cities in Canada.

Comrade Nat Gray, president of the branch, presided, and arrangements were advanced for the sale of the Waverley Hotel, Cumberland, on Friday night, when he failed to return from an evening's walk along what is known as Perseverance Trail.

Early Saturday morning search parties went out in an effort to locate the missing man. No sign could be found of Mr. Spencer until about noon, when one of the searchers found him mired in a swamp. With difficulty he was rescued and rushed to his home, where he is resting comfortably.

Mr. Spencer had only just returned from a visit to England, where he went some three months ago in search of health.

TO PLAY CRIBBAGE

Members will meet for play on each Thursday evening during the Winter at the homes of the various member organizations. It is hoped more teams will be added.

Nanaimo Pioneer Dies
NANAIMO, Oct. 19.—A pioneer resident in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Richards passed away yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. Wilson, Fort Street, at the age of eighty-nine years. She was a native of England. Deceased leaves four sons and two daughters. The funeral will take place on Wednesday.

POSTMASTER RESIGNS
DUNCAN, Oct. 19.—David Ford, who has served the public here for over thirty years, as postmaster, has just tendered his resignation of that position to the department, which is now calling for applications to fill the office. Mr. Ford has been a very popular public servant and his retirement, though well earned, will be regretted by many.

The Life of Thomas A. Edison

By DAVID WILSON
(Copyright, 1931, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

An irascible old gentleman in Port Huron, Mich., grabbed a fifteen-year-old boy by the coat collar and the baggy seat of his trousers and tossed him into the St. Clair River.

It was a fair day in 1862. The old gentleman was a person of no particular importance, but he had resented having his private life exposed by the younger generation in a home-made newspaper.

The boy swam ashore and decided to pursue a different career, so turned his face from newspaper publishing toward the field of scientific research.

The journalistic world lost a great publisher, but the world at large gained its greatest inventor.

It had been a toss-up until that day whether old Samuel Edison's boy would follow the path set by his financially successful home-printed newspaper or do something with the test-tubes and wires and thingumbobs he was always fooling around with. He had to do one of the two.

WANTED TO KNOW
Ever since he could toddle he had been asking people embarrassing questions. "Why?" and "How?" most of the people, including his teachers, until his mother took him out of school and taught him himself—thought he was mentally incompetent for asking those questions so often.

He was mentally different. He really wanted to know. He had to find out. He was veering toward the newspaper side of "why?" and "how?"—those two great reporter's queries—until the adventure with the old gentleman. Then he decided he would rather fight unknown things in the laboratory than know things and angry subscribers on riverbanks.

He turned to telegraphy, a routine path for most who follow it. For him, it was a path that led to electric lights and phonographs and motion pictures and storage batteries, and a thousand and one things that combine to make material existence what it is today.

HIS FIRST JOB
Journalism and chemistry were closely intermingled in the early teens of Thomas Alva Edison. His first job, as candy and news butcher on the Grand Trunk Railway between his home in Port Huron and Detroit, is hopelessly surrounded by myth and legend made up mostly of romantic improvements on bare grains of fact.

It is true beyond question, however, that along with the ordinary duties of selling candy, magazines and Detroit newspapers he managed in an unused space in the combined baggage and express car to operate a publishing plant and an experimental laboratory.

His publication was The Weekly Herald and the only known copy in existence reveals that it was published by A. Edison (he was commonly called Al, not Tom) and sold at eight cents a month on subscription.

It was Edison-written and Edison-printed. It reached a circulation of 500, which, as the cost of output was limited to ink and paper, made a comfortable profit for an ambitious boy. It carried news of the localities served by the train, and occasionally, when young Edison could snatch a bit of late news from a station telegraph operator, items of wider interest.

TEST-TUBES AND CHEMICALS
When he wasn't selling his wares or printing his paper, Edison was playing with test-tubes and chemicals which kind-hearted trainmen permitted him to carry on his candy butcher run. The story of the sad finish of this traveling journalistic-chemical enterprise has been printed in dozens of school readers and biographies.

The train lurched more than usual one day and flung a jar containing phosphorus on the wooden floor of the car. The jar broke, the phosphorus flamed. A hot-tempered conductor put out the fire, kicked Edison off at the first station and flung his printing plant and his laboratory after him.

The additional detail, usually added, that the conductor boxed the boy's ears and thus caused his deafness, is wholly unsubstantiated.

CAUSE OF ADVENTURE
Edison re-established his newspaper at home, but took in some young partners who persuaded him to change its name to "Paul Pry" and devote it to spicy neighborhood gossip. Hence the adventure with the choleric old gentleman.

Edison and his young friends rigged an amateur telegraph line between their homes, and when he wasn't experimenting rashly, and occasionally disastrously, with chemicals, Edison practiced "pounding brass," as telegraph operating was called before the advent of the slide-action "bug" used by most wire men today.

A cow put an end to that—a cow which went wandering one night among the flimsy poles which supported the telegraph wires, and thus entangled herself in an unbreakable net. The owner rescued his milk-producer, but the telegraph line was wrecked.

SAVES CHILD'S LIFE
Edison was sixteen then, however, and was ready to become a professional. Three months before, while gossiping with J. W. Mackenzie, day operator at the Port Huron station, the boy had seen Mackenzie's child in the path of an oncoming train. At great risk he had run across the tracks, picked up the baby, and carried it to safety just as the locomotive whizzed past.

The operator, eager to show his gratitude, had agreed to teach Edison all he knew about telegraphy, and so speedily did the youngster learn when he was interested in his subject that three months were all the training he needed.

Mackenzie, incidentally, remained one of Edison's best friends for many years. It was largely through him that Edison was able to get a job in spite of his youth. He became night operator at the Port Huron station at $25 a month.

Almost immediately Edison set to work on an invention which cost him a night operator at the Port Huron station at $25 a month.

Tomorrow—Edison becomes a washed and contented man—continues his studies of science.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

The Old Land, our mother country, is in the throes of turmoil, for that is what an election has become in these days of people over-governed, and Rover and I, being Englishmen, have allowed our only too-willing hearts to stray away "over there" quite a lot of late.

It is a sorry sight who does not love his Motherland, and it is a sorer sight who does not love his adopted country, for, if he thinks there is any better place to live in than the land he is in, then, the sooner he skeddaddles off to it the better!

We, that is, Rover and I, or, in other words, myself and my better self, are both very much in love with our Motherland; but, we are also very much in love with this other land—Canada—and more especially that glorious Western Province of it known as British Columbia; and we have more than a passing nod, to acquaintance with the other fair provinces that go to make up this the greatest Land of Opportunity on earth.

We are in the same position as the young married man (that is, the world-wide young married man), who is deeply in love with his blushing bride, but still loves his old mother with all his heart.

Hearts are made to expand as the years roll by. The youngest hearts are prone to put all their eggs, so to speak, into one basket; not so the older and more mature and wiser hearts, for they know that it is possible to love more than one human being very much; they know how to apportion their affections and spread them around, and how to love the old and the new without getting them mixed up.

After all that, you may be the better able to understand what we mean when we say we love the Old Country with all our heart, and this great new land with all our heart, too. It's not a mathematical equation, just a seemingly paradoxical truism—and well worth while!

UNIMPAIRED
Though torn in two, my heart survives!

Disintegration is it spared; Miraculously, still it thrives. Nor is it, yet, one whit impaired; For, I'm in love with Motherland, With all its charms of memory, And, too, I love another land, That has for long been home to me!

I would I could, again, sail o'er The seas—to visit Motherland; Not less, 'twould make me love the more.

This great, adopted, other land, I've proved that heart may love two loves. Without a vain regret, or rue; One heart—half would the old enfold. The other cherisheth the new!

In fact, I do believe I know No remedy that I could find To cure my love for this land—new. Nor, for that home I left behind! But, rather, can I so much more, Beyond admiring, and reverence one. Because a lifetime, long, I bore Great love for Home, as England's soul.
